

Parents are networking

By Lisa Boudreau

Parent to Parent, a grass-roots Andover parent group, is the model a state education organization hopes other communities will adopt. Brenda O'Brien, health coordinator for Andover schools, along with other members of the one-year-old group, will represent the town at a Congress on Health conference later this month.

A support and education group founded by and for parents of Andover fourth-through eighth-graders last year, Parent to Parent began when parents attended a series of lectures by an education expert who urged

Working for a solution to the use of the Collins Center

By Lisa Boudreau

The town is inching forward in its efforts to find a solution to restore public use to the J. Everett Collins Center for the Performing Arts. A sub-committee chosen by the School Committee to investigate management and organizational options for the facility, which also serves as Andover High School's auditorium, met Tuesday, Sept. 21.

In a meeting that was closed to the public, the sub-committee discussed three of four proposals submitted this summer when the town asked for ideas to manage the Collins

Author signs copies of his most recent book Saturday

By Don Staruk

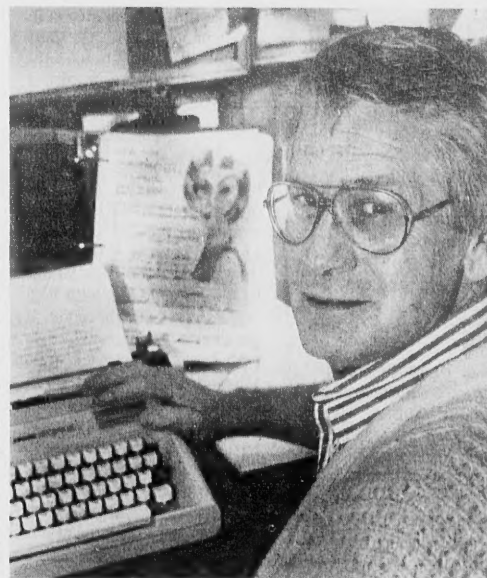

Andover author Andrew Coburn paints images with words.

"She was a stringy woman, somewhere in her 50s, with the face of a pony. Her mouth was a rupture of heavy teeth."

Mr. Coburn, 59, of 3 Farrwood Drive, will sign copies of his latest book, No Way Home, this Saturday, Oct. 3, at Andover Books and Prints, 68 Park St., from 1-4 p.m. A portion of the sales of the books will be contributed to the Immigrant City Archives in Lawrence.

Mr. Coburn is the author of nine novels, which have been translated into eight foreign languages. Although successful here, he is even more popular in Europe, where three of his books have been made into French films.

Impressed with Ukraine

Julie Hardin of Central Street spent two weeks studying life and people in the former Soviet Union

By Don Staruk

The most impressive part of her trip to Ukraine last month was the people, according to Julie Hardin.

"The most important part of this trip was that it allowed Americans to have time with Ukraine families in their own homes," she said. "The lasting impression that we all had is that the Ukraine people are a generous people."

Ballot Question 1:

Add more tax to cigarettes?

Four questions will appear on the November ballot. The League of Women Voters of Massachusetts board decided to support Question 3: To require reduced, reusable or recyclable packaging. The League of Women Voters of Massachusetts voted to take no position on the other three questions.

The recommendation to support means that the LWVM will take an active role in helping to achieve passage of the question.

When no position is recommended, no action may be taken in the name of the League. The League prepared what follows:

Ballot Question 1. Tax on cigarettes and smokeless tobacco. The LWVM takes no position.

A "yes" vote on Question 1 would establish an additional 25 cents excise tax on cigarettes and smokeless tobacco. Revenues collected from this excise would go into a new State Health Protection Fund and be used, subject to appropriation, for comprehensive school health programs that would incorporate information about tobacco hazards and for workplace and community smoking prevention programs.

Pro: Proponents of this initiative (Massachusetts Coalition for a Healthy Future) sat cigarette smoking is a public-health hazard. They claim that raising the price of cigarettes would cut demand, particularly among children who are more price sensitive consumers. Studies by the Massachusetts Department of Public Health show that a 25-cent increase will result in 80,000 fewer smokers (people who will quit or never start) and will prevent 20,000 premature deaths. In 1989, an initiative to increase the cigarette excise tax by 25 cents was passed in California. Cigarette consumption has declined by 17 percent.

The revenues created by the additional excise are estimated at $130 million annually. These monies would be earmarked for a Health Protection Fund, which would support comprehensive school-health programs that prevent and reduce tobacco use, community health center programs for pregnant women and workplace and community-based smoking and drug use prevention and cessation programs.

Con: Opponents (Committee Against Unfair Taxes) do not argue with the basic premise that smoking is a health hazard. However, they suggest that this would be a regressive tax, with negative impact on the poor. If the excise on cigarettes were raised an additional 25 cents, Massachusetts would have the highest cigarette excise tax (51 cents per pack) in the nation. Raising taxes causes cross-border activity, which results in lost revenue for a high-tax state and increased revenue for a low-tax state. A study on cross-border activity between Massachusetts and New Hampshire was done by Price Waterhouse in 1990. It showed that during the period from 1975-1988, there was an average loss to Massachusetts of 13 percent of annual cigarette sales to New Hampshire. The 26 cents differential (New Hampshire's cigarette excise tax is 25 cents and there is also no sales tax) that would result from this initiative would cause increased losses of tax revenues, retail sales and jobs. Cross-border activity may also increase among other border states.

Opponents also remind us that voters can vote, through initiative petition, to raise taxes, but voters cannot specify how tax revenue is spent. Spending is at the discretion of the Legislature.

League Position:

Pro: The LWVM has a position, adopted in 1979, supporting increased taxes on liquor and cigarettes. The League also supports an emphasis on preventative medicine, control of environmental hazards and consumer education.

Con: The LWVM has a new fiscal policy position, which opposes earmarking. The League supports commonly accepted criteria in judging taxes, particularly equitability and economic effect. This tax may be borne unduly by the poor. Furthermore, it is not clear what economic effect cross-border activity would have on tax revenue, retail sales and jobs.

Additional remarks from the Fiscal Policy Committee are: 1. There is no guarantee that the excise money collected would be spent for health education since it is subject to appropriation by the Legislature each year. 2. The general public is not a tax-raising authority. That power belongs in the Legislature where the issue can be given public review and necessary economic scrutiny.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Clark Road to be closed 3 days

Clark Road will be closed to traffic today, Thursday, and tomorrow, Friday, and possibly again Monday, according to police.

Work crews are installing a new, larger culvert under the roadway for Clark Brook. Andover Street was closed earlier this week while the culvert was installed there. Town officials said the Clark Road work should be complete by Monday, but in the case of bad weather, could go longer.

Traffic for Ballardvale and Lowell Junction will be detoured onto Dascumb Road to Andover Street.

League plans candidate forum

The League of Women Voters of Andover will hold a Candidates Debate Forum Thursday, Oct. 22, 7:30 p.m. at Memorial Hall Library.

Candidates to debate Oct. 14

The Mount Vernon Neighborhood Association in Lawrence will hold its 4th Annual Candidates Night at Frost School, 30 Hamlet St., Lawrence, Wednesday, Oct. 14, starting promptly at 7 p.m.

The order of appearance of candidates is: 7 p.m., state rep., 17th Essex District; 7:30 p.m., state senator, 2nd Essex-Middlesex; 8 p.m., 5th Congressional District; 8:30 p.m., governors council 5th District; 9 p.m., Essex County commissioner; 9:30 p.m., Essex County sheriff.

For information, call Frank Ogden, president of the Mt. Vernon Neighborhood Association.

St. Roberts holds blood drive

The American Red Cross will sponsor a blood drive Thursday, Oct. 1, from 3 to 8 p.m. at St. Roberts Church on Haggetts Pond Road.

Save goods for Habitat drive

Habitat for Humanity is asking residents to save household goods, small and large appliances in working condition, furniture, toys and clean, wearable clothing for their Saturday, Oct. 17, thrift sale. The sale will be held from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at Grace Church in Lawrence. Proceeds will benefit the Greater Lawrence chapter of Habitat for Humanity.

For more information, call Karen Forrest at 475-9956.

Jack Kemp, secretary of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, spoke at a fundraiser for Andover resident Paul Cronin last Wednesday, Sept. 23, at the Ramada Hotel Rolling Green. Mr. Cronin, who ran Mr. Kemp's presidential campaign in Massachusetts in 1988, has been a personal friend of the HUD secretary since they served together as congressmen in the early 1970s. Mr. Cronin, a Republican, is running against Lowell Democrat Martin Meehan for the Fifth District Congressional seat currently held by Chet Atkins, D-Concord. Mr. Meehan said this week he is committed to fighting for funding to put a federal prison at Fort Devens that could bring 1,000 jobs to the area.

Today's League forum is about water

The League of Women Voters of Andover invites all townspeople to a forum in honor of Coastal Week today, Thursday, at 7:15 p.m. at the Water Treatment Plant at Haggetts Pond on Route 133.

The League Water Resources Committee, under the direction of Chairwoman Gina Riddiford, is focusing on the Merrimack River and related water issues in celebration and recognition of National Coastal Week. The committee invites local environmental groups with an interest in the Merrimack River, its greenbelt, watershed, recreational uses and long-term health.

Bring a brown bag lunch to the noon meeting and enjoy coffee and dessert.

For further information, contact Melissa Danisch at 34 Enmore St.

Local pro-life group join walk

Members of the local chapter of Massachusetts Citizens for Life will participate in the sixth annual Respect Life Walk Sunday, Oct. 4, at 2 p.m. at the Boston Common.

To participate or to sponsor a walker, call Jon and Helen Taylor at 475-1463.

Rep. Coon receives award

State Rep. Gary M. Coon, R-Andover, was recognized Tuesday, Sept. 22, with an award from the Lower Merrimack Valley Regional Employment Board.

Rep. Coon was the Merrimack Valley legislator presented with a 1992 Partnership Award. It was given, "in recognition of (his) special efforts to promote workforce development and economic growth for the Merrimack Valley and (his) contribution to the success of (the) Merrimack Valley Economic Summit."

"I am very honored to have been chosen as a recipient of this award," said Rep. Coon. "The issues of economic growth and development are ones of critical importance to me, to my district and to the people of the Merrimack Valley."

Rep. Coon was elected to the House of Representatives in 1990. He serves on the Commerce and Labor Committee and Taxation Committee. Both committees deal in large part with issues affecting the workforce and the economy.

Lights on for Ross Perot

The Texas billionaire has a pocket of support in Andover

By Lisa Boudreau

Andover's H. Ross Perot supporters will join comrades from around the country this Sunday and drive their cars with the headlights on to show solidarity for the on-and-off-again presidential candidate.

"It isn't just Perot supporters we are urging to do this," said Dino Diamondis, 11 Rutgers Road, co-coordinator for the Andover chapter of People for Perot and United We Stand America.

"We want anyone, Democrats, Republicans and Independents, concerned with getting answers for the deficit addressed to keep their headlights on Sunday. We are hoping this will be nationwide," he said.

Mr. Diamondis, who corresponds with state Perot campaign coordinators, said the overwhelming positive response he's recorded from Andover Perot supporters echoes state and national appeals for the Texas billionaire to get back into the presidential race.

Mr. Diamondis said the Andover chapter, like those all around the country, is still receiving money from the national Perot campaign to continue campaigning on a local level. He has donated two copies of Mr. Perot's book, United We Stand, to local public, preparatory school and college libraries.

Joyce and S. J. Chen, 36 Algonquin Drive, also members of People for Perot and United We Stand America, will be driving with their headlights on Sunday.

Ms. Chen, who helped collect signatures in Andover to get Mr. Perot on the state ballot this November, said she hopes the businessman re-enters the race this week.

"I'm fed up with the present political situation," she said.

"President Bush isn't getting the problems fixed and we need political reform," which Mr. Perot can do, said Ms. Chen.

Anyone interested in learning more about the state and local Perot chapters can contact the Boston office at P.O. Box. 9161, Boston, Mass., 02209, or Mr. Diamondis.

Kaps is looking to locate in Andover

By Lisa Boudreau

Kaps men's and women's clothing store is actively seeking to relocate in downtown Andover from its current spot on Essex Street in Lawrence, owner Dick Kapelson told the Townsmen Tuesday.

"Andover is a good shopping hub. It's clean, attractive and secure," said Mr. Kapelson.

No definite plans have been made for either a new location in Andover or for the Lawrence building that Mr. Kapelson owns on Essex Street.

'Andover is a good shopping hub. It's clean, attractive and secure.'

"I'm interested in the central downtown area," he said of Andover.

News of Macartney's
In other downtown-business news,

John Zenovitch, manager of Macartney's clothing on Main Street since the store opened in 1952, will retire at the end of this year, said store co-owner Bob Macartney.

"We will make an announcement about the future of the store by Nov. 1," said Mr. Macartney, who owns the business with his brother, Gardner Macartney.

Macartney's in Lawrence closed almost two years ago and the Andover store's women's department disbanded this summer.

Time's almost up to register to vote

Andover residents will be able to register to vote in fall elections during special registration dates at town offices on Bartlett Street.

Remaining dates to register to vote in the state election are:

- Saturday, Oct. 3, 9 a.m.-5 p.m.
- Tuesday, Oct. 6, 8:30 a.m.-10 p.m.

Election day is Tuesday, Nov. 3.

Working toward a solution to use of the Collins Center

Center as a community theater, high school auditorium, as well as a site for professional productions.

Chris Outwin, a member of the School Committee and the Collins Center sub-committee, said the board plans to interview the authors of the proposals and make a recommendation to the School Committee as soon as possible.

"The next step is open review by the School Committee. Then the public will be able to become more involved. Right now, for confidentiality reasons, we do not want to reveal the nature of the proposals," he said.

The three proposals come from New England organizations and people, but none were submitted by local groups, he said. The three differ in the amount of start-up money from the town that would be needed and how much local and professional use each management group would foster, he said.

The Collins Center had functioned in all three capacities since it was built in 1984, but it was scaled down to just a school auditorium last year after the last in a series of several management organizations went bankrupt. Since the spring of 1990 only a few local dance companies, which booked the center long in advance, have rented the Collins Center.

'For confidentiality reasons, we do not want to reveal the nature of the proposals.'

During the 1991-'92 school year, high school productions were run with student crews and the help of a part-time technical director. Students and the same part-time director are currently staffing the Collins Center when it is need for school assemblies and parent-teacher meetings, said Tim Thomas, AHS principal. A fall and spring AHS drama production will go on as planned, said Mr. Thomas, and students will continue to train peers with the help of the technical director.

"The money the dance recitals brought in enabled us to make several repairs to torn seats and some of the technical and lighting equipment last year. There is still a few thousand dollars left to make similar repairs if needed this year," Mr. Thomas said.

Dr. Outwin said he will announce future sub-committee meetings at the Tuesday, Oct. 6, School Committee meeting.

Mostly League members attend civic responsibilities talk by superintendent

By Perry

Colmore Catlin

About 45 people gathered last week at Doherty Middle School to hear Superintendent Mark McQuillan talk about civic responsibility.

Six of the 45 were men and two of them town officials: Dr. McQuillan and Town Manager Buzz Stapczynski. Jock Reynolds, director of the Addison gallery at Phillips Academy, was also there.

Many of the women were older parents. The evening was sponsored by the League of Women Voters and many attending were League members: League president Ginny Cole, Joyce Ringleb, Margaret Pustell, Alix Driscoll, Elaine Katz, Betsey Cullen, Janet Surret, three vice presidents of the League: Elaine Smith, Karen Young and Jane Twickler, Skip Eccles, Joyce and Willard Robinson, Sue Dennet, Barbara and John Crouch.

Also attending were assistant superintendent Eileen Woods and Peg Campbell of the Department of Community Service.

During the coffee hour following Dr. McQuillan's talk, people asked where the parents of today's young students were. "We used to go to these meetings when we were that age," was the feeling. People said those parents were probably home watching TV, or home because they were too tired from working. Some noted that parents, especially women, work more outside the home today than a few years ago. One woman suggested that some parents were at other activities that night, including child-related events.

The evening turned into a time to talk about the responsibility of adults - parents as well as teachers - to teach children civic and moral responsibility.

Dr. McQuillan dropped some disturbing statistics:

- The U.S. has the highest murder rate for 15-24 year-old males.

- In 1981, half of 100,000 youth surveyed said they had shoplifted at least once; most who had, said they'd do it again.

- In a 1990 study of more than 6,000 college freshmen and sophomores, 76 percent admitted to cheating in high school.

- Incidents of racial violence or hostility have been reported at more than 300 U.S. colleges and universities over the past five years.

- Anecdotal evidence from veteran teachers suggests widespread use of foul language, peer cruelty and disrespect for authority.

- Alcohol, substance abuse and self-destructiveness are common concerns.

- "And as you know," said Dr. McQuillan, "the number of young Americans voting in local, state and national elections is distressingly, if not appallingly, low."

Amy Brady of Andover, a parent and a teacher who currently is at home, may have expressed the mood and thoughts of the evening best when she said, "It's disgraceful. The reason Proposition 2 1/2 didn't pass is parents are apathetic." She said students need to see their parents voting.

Dr. McQuillan said part of the schools' responsibility is to help teachers deal with moral and ethical discussions. He said there are training exercises and other resources in this community to teach young people civic and moral responsibility.

Ms. Driscoll suggested "we've lost sight of our moral and civic responsibilities because we have been focusing on 'larger issues,'" those being abortion, war and the death penalty, to name just three.

"The case, I believe, for organizing our schools actively to teach civic responsibility could not be more acute," said Dr. McQuillan. "Not only are schools in a position to lead, but they must lead, I would argue, if we are to fulfill our ethical obligations as public institutions to the citizens we serve."

Women in Business

The Townsmen is no longer accepting nominations for its special section, Women At Work, to run Oct. 22. The paper has received scores of nominations and will not be able to write profiles on all of the women.

"We have been impressed with the large number of interesting women who were nominated," said Townsmen editor Perry Colmore Catlin. "I wish we could profile all of them."

SHOULD YOU REMODEL OR MOVE?

Your family has outgrown your home, but you love the neighborhood and schools, and you've established roots that make it hard to move. Is remodeling the solution?

Before you jump into a major renovation project, get some professional advice. First, decide what changes you want to make and contact several contractors for bids. Once you get some idea of the costs involved, ask your Realtor if your plans would over-improve the house for the neighborhood, making it impossible for you to get your money back if you must resell any time soon. Talk to friends who have remodeled their homes to get a true picture of what you might expect when dealing with contractors. Can the work be completed around your family? How disruptive will it be to your lives and for how long? Remodeling a home is a major undertaking, and may not be the best solution to your space needs.

If you are considering a move, contact the professionals at Century 21 Minuteman Realty. Call us at 475-1243, or stop by our office at 2 Elm Square.

James Abramson receives 'City of Peace' award

James L. Abramson of Andover will receive the "City of Peace" award from the Food and Beverage Industry Division of Greater Boston State of Israel Bonds during a dinner at 6 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 10, at the Boston Park Plaza Hotel. Gerald Meister, director of the Israel Institute for Interreligious Studies, will be the guest speaker.

For more than 20 years, Mr. Abramson has been at Capital Distributing Company, Inc., a distributor of spirits and wines operating out of Dracut. Prior to that he was part of the executive training program at Colgate Palmolive. A graduate of Dartmouth College and Harvard Business School, Mr. Abramson was also a lieutenant in the U.S. Army Signal Corps, where he served in Germany as part of the Battlefield Communications Battalion.

He is a former president of the Andover Chamber of Commerce and former Andover Selectman and chairman. He is the former director of both the Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce and the Bank of New England Bay State. He is a director of Lawrence General Hospital, a vice president of the Merrimack Valley United Jewish Communities and a member of Temple Emanuel.

"The community has benefited significantly through the involvement and commitment Jim has given to it," said Ralph Kaplan, of New England Israel Bonds, honorary chairman of the Nov. 10 dinner. "His interest in helping the state of Israel has always been an important part of his life as well."

For further information about the event or securities offered by State of Israel Bonds/Development Corporation for Israel, call Andrew Norman at 617-723-2400 or 800-752-5651.

Genetics scientist presents at nutrition symposium

Dr. R. Scott Thies of the Genetics Institute, and an Andover resident, was among the more than 200 scientists studying biotechnology-derived growth factors to present recent advances in the field at the Bristol-Myers Squibb/Mead Johnson Nutrition Research Symposium Sept. 10 and 11 in Cincinnati, Ohio.

The following reports were among the presentations on emerging therapies and possible cures for a wide range of diseases:

- Insulin-like growth factor not only promotes growth in infants and children, but may some day play a role in treating malnutrition, trauma therapy and preventing medical conditions associated with the aging process, such as osteoporosis.

- Transforming growth factor is produced at high levels by a variety of cancer cells and can be readily detected in the urine of cancer patients. As a result, it may be a useful marker for monitoring the response of patients to anti-cancer therapy, such as chemotherapy.

- Growth factor research is providing scientists with insight into how cancer cells develop and proliferate because both are associated with rapid cell division.

- Scientists are unraveling the mysteries of angiogenesis, the biological process that describes the growth of blood vessels. By learning to inhibit angiogenesis, scientists may learn how to inhibit the growth of cancerous tumors, which rely on a blood supply to grow.

- Interleukin-11 stimulates bone marrow to make platelets, which are essential to blood clotting, and could prevent the need for risky blood transfusions needed by people who have low platelet counts, such as cancer patients who receive chemotherapy and newborn infants who suffer from thrombocytopenia, a relatively common blood disease.

- Scientists are developing intrauterine and post-delivery growth factor therapies for perinatal development disorders, including growth retardation, low birth weight, perinatal blood diseases and immature organ development, especially the lungs and heart.

- The latest findings on growth factors that promote burn and wound healing and growth factor therapies for rheumatoid arthritis, immune deficiency diseases, cancer, kidney failure and other diseases.

Prudential Howe adds HomeView

HomeView announces the addition of Prudential Howe Real Estate to its network of member brokers.

HomeView is a new way to buy and sell homes. Properties are displayed on high-resolution color monitors. Homes are selected by buyers' specific criteria.

The HomeView system then simulates a complete "walk through" of these homes. The buyer views the interiors, exteriors and neighborhoods of the homes.

For more information, call Wendy Perkins at Prudential Howe Real Estate, 4 Punchard Ave.

IRS collects Toys for Tots

The Internal Revenue Service will kick off its fifth annual Toys for Tots Campaign, in conjunction with the U.S. Marine Corps.

Last year, donations from individuals and area businesses amounted to 4,352 toys for needy children. Needed are new unwrapped toys, money (make checks to Toys for Tots), gift certificates or merchandise which is used in raffles to raise money for new toys and services - transportation, refreshments for volunteers.

Those who would like more information should call 474-5514 and ask for Deborah Rose, Toys for Tots coordinator at the IRS.

The Printing Solution

"I'm never alone here unless I want to be."

—Rachel Douville
Resident, Hillcrest Terrace

On friendships & the meeting of minds: "I was looking for friendship, and I found plenty. Like at the Current Events Kaffe Klatch on Tuesdays. People speak up and say what's on their mind, especially now, with elections coming up. And the Bible Class every Monday. It was organized by a resident who's a retired minister. Everyone respects what the others can give. But they respect your privacy, too..."

On Hillcrest Terrace & Manchester: "I had no intention of leaving my home in Manchester, where I was born and raised. But because of my disability, my sister and her husband thought I shouldn't live alone.

I haven't given up my roots at all. In fact, I met my friends from Manchester at the fashion show here yesterday..."

On exercise: "There's a group of us... we do indoor fitness walking all winter. And we move outside with the good weather. And even though the food is 'too good' here, I haven't gained weight because I have companions to walk with."

On controlling expenses: "It's a lot easier to deal with my expenses now. I only have one bill, plus the phone. I know exactly what's going out and I can plan for it. No surprises here except good ones."

Suspect arraigned in 1989 law school fire here

By Don Staruk

The former head of the now-defunct Commonwealth School of Law, in Lowell, was brought back to Massachusetts from Florida last week and charged with causing a fire at the Massachusetts School of Law in Andover in 1989.

Michael J. Boland, 44, of Ormond Beach, Fla., was charged with burning a building and conspiracy to commit a felony (arson).

The fire burned a basement library at the Massachusetts School of Law, then located in Dundee Office Park off Essex Street, on Oct. 23, 1989. The fire allegedly was set as an act of vengeance aimed at the founders of the Massachusetts School of Law.

Warrants were issued for Mr. Boland and an accomplice, Edward T. Dillon, 42, of North Chelmsford, in September 1991. Mr. Dillon was arrested soon after, pleaded out to avoid trial last spring and is now serving three to 10 years in Concord State Prison, according to police.

Mr. Boland has been held for the last year in Daytona Beach, Fla., on unrelated charges by the Volusia County district attorney for allegedly bilking an elderly woman out of $500,000. Those charges were dismissed, though they will be appealed, last week and Florida officials agreed to turn Mr. Boland over to Massachusetts to face the arson charges.

Andover Detective Donald Pattullo and a state police investigator, Jack Garvin, flew to Florida Monday, Sept. 21, and flew back the next day with Mr. Boland.

Mr. Boland was arraigned in Salem Superior Court Wednesday, Sept. 23, and was ordered held on $250,000 double surety bail.

Howard Whitehead, assistant district attorney in Salem, is handling the case.

The Massachusetts School of Law graduated its first class in May of 1990. The school moved to Federal Street in Andover earlier this year.

Lecture on depression is free

To mark Mental Illness Awareness Week, Winchester Hospital will present "Understanding the Blues, Causes and Treatments," Monday, Oct. 5, 7-9 p.m.

Dr. Peter Mencher, chief of psychiatry at the hospital, and a panel of mental health experts will present a free lecture, film and panel discussion about depression. A question-and-answer period will follow the program.

For information, call the hospital at (617) 756-2220.

SCHOOLS

AHS students named 1993 Merit Scholarship Commended Students

A number of Andover High School students have been named Commended Students in the 1993 National Merit Scholarship Program.

A Letter of Commendation from National Merit Scholarship Corporation, which conducts the program, will be presented by the school to these outstanding seniors.

Free college workshop Oct. 14

Kaplan Test Prep will present a free two-hour workshop for students and parents to help identify the right college for them. Financial aid, college applications, comparing schools and interview techniques are among the topics to be discussed. This session will be held Wednesday, Oct. 14, at 7 p.m. at the Greater Lawrence Vocational Technical Center in Andover. Reservations are required, call 1-800-KAP-TEST.

The commended students are: Christine Boutureira, Wendy C. Darling, Jennifer Donofrio, Marc S. Elzweig, Kevin E. Foltz, Holly L. Grabowski, Linda C. Hsu, Eileen M. Kelley, Ben A. Mazin, Ellen S. Mitchell, Edward J. Moore, Laura M. Morgan, David A. Nicolaisen, Ellen B. Sullivan, Tanya S. Tamarkin, J. Todd Taylor and Michael S. Wu.

About 35,000 commended students throughout the nation are being honored for their outstanding performance on the 1991 Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test/-National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, which was the route of entry to the 1993 Merit Program. Commended students have shown exceptional academic promise by placing among the top 5 percent of more than one million program entrants, although they will not continue in the 1993 competition for Merit Scholarships.

AHS Parent Advisory Council presents its October tip

In this time of political activity, discussions about on the economy and its impact on education. Money is tight and, as a result, there is less to spend on programs affecting students.

How can students help? By becoming aware. They can ask parents to join the parents advisory council. If time is a problem, parents can support the council by donating $15 in dues.

Last year the council sponsored a career day; donated video equipment; purchased new banners for the gym; conducted 4MAT learning workshops for parents and students; and acquired health subscriptions for students.

The goals for the 1992-'93 school year include ways to provide supplemental financial support for programs not entirely funded within the existing budget.

The next Parents Advisory Council meeting will be held Monday, Oct. 5, at 7:30 p.m. in the high school library annex. They are planning the first drug- and alcohol-free celebration, to be held in June.

The kick-off presentation will be made at this meeting. This will be a success only with the help and support from junior and senior parents and students, according to PAC.

All parents are invited.

SCHOOLTALK

Our Lady of Nazareth Academy will host its third annual High School Information Fair this Wednesday, Oct. 7, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. in the Emiliana Center on the school's campus in Wakefield.

This year 33 schools will attend. The fair is an opportunity for sixth-, seventh- and eighth-grade students and their families to research a number of schools at one time. There are representatives from each school on hand to talk with parents and students. Last year more than 500 people attended.

Brooks School in North Andover and Phillips Academy will be among the 33 schools attending.

There is parking behind the gymnasium. Refreshments will be provided in the school's cafeteria. OLN is handicapped accessible. For information, call the guidance and admissions office at (617) 245-0749 or (617) 245-5210.

The schedule for the Andover High School marching band competitions has been set: Saturday, Oct. 3, Nicholson Stadium at Methuen High School, at 6:30 p.m.; Sunday, Oct. 11, Norwood High School at 1 p.m.; Sunday, Oct. 18, at Marshwood High School in Eliot, Maine, at 1 p.m.; Sunday, Oct. 25, Triton Regional High School in Byfield at 1 p.m.; Sunday, Nov. 1, Nickerson Stadium, Boston University, New England Scholastic Band Association finals.

All 36 fifth-graders from the Pike School are spending five days at Sargent Camp Environmental Center in Peterborough, N.H. The Sargent trip has been part of the fifth-grade program at Pike for nearly 20 years. Students and faculty live in cabins and share the experience of group living while they pursue an educational program that builds on what youngsters have learned in their science and geography classes. Learning to work together as a group and keep journals, they increase their awareness of what is in the woods, sky and water.

Sanborn School families can participate in Chevy's 'Driving for Education' program

Commonwealth Motors on Marston Street in Lawrence has joined forces with Sanborn School to assist its Parent Teacher Organization in acquiring camcorders, a TV/VCR, Apple computers, or a combination of these as part of its "Driving for Education" program.

Sanborn School families have been asked to participate in Commonwealth's "Driving for Education" sales promotion campaign, which is being offered nationwide by Chevrolet.

Sanborn parents are asked to test drive Chevrolets at Commonwealth Motors; points accumulate for every family's test drive.

For 50 test drives, Sanborn will receive a Compton's Encyclopedia; for 75, a TV/VCR; for 100, a Magnavox VHS Camcorder; and for 250, a Macintosh LC HD40 Color computer system.

Charles Daher of Andover, owner of Commonwealth Motors, said any school can sign up for a week. He emphasizes that participants would not be pressured to buy; this is simply an introductory promotion to develop a relationship with future potential customers. "Maybe they will consider us down the road," Mr. Daher said.

Sanborn families must visit Commonwealth during Oct. 5-10 between 10 a.m. and 7 p.m., Monday through Friday, and 10 a.m. to noon Saturday. Only one family member per household may test drive. Drivers must be 21 years of age or accompanied by parent or guardian, have a valid driver's license and come to the dealership in their own vehicle.

Andover's Assistant Superintendent Eileen Woods to be honored at Addison Gallery reception tonight

There will be a reception to honor former Sanborn principal Eileen Woods, named this summer to the new position of assistant superintendent, tonight, Thursday, Oct. 1, at 6:30 p.m.

The reception will be held at the Addison Gallery on the Phillips Academy campus.

Gallery director Jack Reynolds will welcome the public to the reception with opening remarks, and Superintendent Mark McQuillan will make a presentation to Ms. Woods.

Many Sanborn School families are expected, and a number of businesses in the community have donated materials, services, or refreshments for the reception, which is open to the public.

BECAUSE FLOWERS SAY WHAT WORDS CAN'T.

Whatever the occasion, we have a great selection! Just call or visit today.

AHS Ski Team Booster Club is holding a bake sale Saturday

The Andover High Ski Team Booster Club begins its fund-raising season with a bake sale this Saturday, Oct. 3, at DeMoulas in Shawsheen Plaza. The Booster Club is in its fourth season of support for the AHS ski team. Funds are used to supply race equipment and bus transportation to the on-snow practices. They ask the community to support the high school ski team by buying some homemade baked goods.

West Fest is on for this weekend

West Middle School has seen many changes in one brief, and at times difficult, year. The most obvious change is the renovations to the building. Although major work to the heating and ventilation systems has yet to be tackled, students, teachers and parents are delighted with and appreciate the school's new facelift. New principal Dr. Sam Campbell has injected an atmosphere of cooperation, communication and support between parents and teachers. A new P.A.C. has been formed with many goals for the coming year.

For those reasons, the West Fest Carnival is a celebration for the school's students, teachers and parents.

The West Fest Carnival weekend will kick off with a grand opening Friday, Oct. 2, at 3 p.m. Superintendent Dr. McQuillan, Assistant Superintendent Mrs. Woods, Frank Paul, the School Committee, Town Manager Buzz Stapczynski and the Selectmen have all been invited to the opening festivities.

Sam Pino Amusements will provide 10 rides designed to appeal to all ages, plus arcades and typical carnival fare (fried dough, cotton candy, sausage, burgers, french fries, etc.).

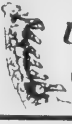

A group of students and teachers have collaborated on a dunk tank and sponge toss, with members from both groups volunteering to be "dunked and sloshed." Parent volunteers will host Candy World, where wrapped penny candy will be for sale.

The Der Ananian ice cream truck will sell frozen treats. The Der Ananians, West Middle School parents, donated their West Fest profits to P.A.C.

The Time Machine in Methuen will provide a disc jockey to entertain Friday and Saturday nights.

West Fest will be held at the school's parking lot from 3 to 11 p.m. Friday, Oct. 2; 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 3; and noon to 8 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 4.

Parking will be available at the high school. A shuttle bus will transport patrons to and from West Elementary School's parking lot from 6 to 11:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday, or as needed.

Understanding Chiropractic

by Mark F. DeLorenzo, D.C.

CHRONIC PAIN

It is estimated that 50 to 70 million Americans suffer from chronic pain, which is defined as pain that lasts longer than three to six months and has no obvious cause. Because chronic pain sufferers cannot avail themselves of easily-discovered remedies, half of them take between one and five prescription pain-relieving drugs (often simultaneously with over-the-counter medication or alcohol). Not surprisingly, 25 percent of chronic pain sufferers develop addictions to pain-control drugs and never so much as find relief for their pain. Because pain involves the perception of an injurious stimulus by a nerve ending, as well as the mind's apprehension of pain signals relayed through the nervous system, does it not make sense to consult a person trained in such matters?

We are committed to getting to the source of your problem, not masking your symptoms. If you have been unable to find relief, we hope you will try chiropractic. Please call for more information at DELORENZO CHIROPRACTIC GROUP, 475-5042. Our office is located at 15 Central Street.

P.S. The chiropractor may be able to track the source of pain backward from the nerve trunk leading to the brain.

WHEN IT COMES TO QUALITY MEDICAL CARE, WE NOT ONLY HAVE ONE OF THE BEST NAMES IN TOWN, WE HAVE FIFTY-SIX OF THEM.

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL FAMILY MEDICAL CENTER

As you can see, our best is comprised of some of the most respected doctors and specialists in the area. And recently, this group's reputation has been further enhanced by the arrival of pediatricians Francesca Mattone, M.D., Carolyn Sedor, M.D., Sandy Stephens, M.D. and internal medicine physician Sandra Rafiy-Layne, M.D. In addition to our staff changes, we've also changed our name. The Regional Health Center in Wilmington is now the Winchester Hospital Family Medical Center. As an extension of Winchester Hospital, you'll now have access to the best in clinical services and medical practices in the areas of internal medicine, pediatrics, Ob/Gyn, specialty areas and a wide range of medical disciplines. And all conveniently located right in town. So come by Winchester Hospital Family Medical Center and meet our staff. We think you'll agree that the best is not only yet to come, it's here.

Table for Five 120 minutes

If you aren't into pathos, skip this one. But if you want to swim around in the head of a divorced father of three who decided he wants to spend more time with his children, you may find this one rings true.

Jon Voight is the dad and since his divorce, which we gather was a few years ago, he has not paid much attention to them. When he decides "I want to come back into the children's lives," he finds his offspring have learned not to rely on him.

Parts of this 1982 movie don't work, but most of it does. It covers the universal subject of loss in a moving way.

Make sure to have the Kleenex handy, and invite your children (perhaps age 9 and older) to watch it with you - they may share with you some valuable information about their dreams, fears and needs.

Selectmen declare this Saturday 'Dr. Nina E. Scarito Day'

Andover Selectmen have declared Saturday, Oct. 3, "Dr. Nina E. Scarito Day" here, as a tribute to the obstetrician whom Selectmen Chairman Charles H. Wesson Jr. calls "a guiding light in our community."

For more than 45 years, Dr. Scarito has made immeasurable contributions to Andover and Merrimack Valley communities, not only delivering 20,000 babies, but also setting standards for quality, compassion and commitment. Lawrence General Hospital will host a 75th birthday celebration and dinner in her honor tomorrow, Friday, Oct. 2, to recognize and thank her for her on-going commitment to the community.

In his letter informing Dr. Scarito of Andover's special day, Mr. Wesson stated, "Your life's work as a physician with a specialty in obstetrics and gynecology is a testament for your love of mankind. I am sure you heard the first cries of many of the residents of Andover...the dedication that you have shown to the health and welfare of the residents of the Merrimack Valley is certainly worthy of tribute."

"The hospital's birthday celebration of Dr. Scarito is our way of publicly thanking this remarkable woman for her life-long commitment to the betterment of our community," said Andover resident Edna G. Thomas, chairman of the board at Lawrence General Hospital. "We are proud to be among her colleagues and friends."

Born and raised in Lawrence, Dr. Scarito joined the staff of Lawrence General Hospital in 1945 and practiced there until 1990. She also practiced at Holy Family Hospital in Methuen. In 1962, an Eagle-Tribune editorial stated, "Few if any women in the history of the community have been accorded more honors for public service than Dr. Nina E. Scarito." Through the years, she has repeatedly garnered awards and recognitions as she worked to improve the health and welfare of women and children. She has marked many firsts in the Merrimack Valley as well as beyond.

She was the first woman intern at Boston Lying-In (now part of Brigham & Women's Hospital). She was the first female physician on staff at Lawrence General, the first female obstetrician/gynecologist in the Greater Lawrence area and the first of either sex to become board-certified. Her friend and colleague, Dr. John Mallen, credits her as being the major force for modernizing obstetrical care in the Merrimack Valley.

She graduated from Lawrence High School at the age of 15, went to Radcliffe College and then Women's Medical College in Pennsylvania.

The list of awards she's received and organizations she's helped are numerous. She was a founding member of the Greater Lawrence Guidance Center and Greater Lawrence chapter of the Quota Club. She expanded Lawrence General's outpatient efforts to include family planning service and served not only as chief of OB/GYN for many years, but also was the first (and thus far the only) woman president of the medical staff from 1975-1976. She has remained active in such organizations as the Quota Club, Merrimack Valley United Fund, YWCA, International Institute, Red Cross, Methuen Memorial Music Hall, Merrimack Valley Philharmonic Orchestra and Greater Lawrence Girl Scout Council.

The Dr. Nina E. Scarito 75th birthday celebration and dinner will begin at 6:30 p.m. at Central Catholic High School Auditorium, 300 Hampshire St., Lawrence.

All former patients of Dr. Scarito, friends and colleagues are invited along with one guest; tickets must be reserved.

Dr. Scarito has personally requested that in lieu of birthday gifts, guests make contributions to the Nina E. Scarito, M.D., Tribute Fund. The fund has been established by the Lawrence General Hospital Foundation to continue the spirit of Dr. Scarito's commitment to the community and Greater Lawrence women and children. All monies will be used for capital projects and equipment to benefit the hospital's maternal child health patients.

Dr. Nina E. Scarito

The birthday celebration will include a family-style turkey dinner and entertainment. Dr. William O'Reilly will serve as master of ceremonies.

For more information, call 681-8367.

Columnist Linda Weltner will speak on Conflict Resolution this Sunday

Columnist Linda Weltner will speak on "Conflict Resolution: A Personal Perspective" Sunday, Oct. 4, at 7:30 p.m. in North Andover High School. The date was revised by the sponsors, North Andover People For Peace.

This talk, the kickoff to a two-year program being run in the North Andover schools, is open to the public. The tickets are $5.

All money raised will be used in support of a conflict resolution program in the schools.

Andover Symphony Bus will begin taking concert-goers to town tomorrow

The Andover Symphony Bus will begin taking concert-goers from the Greater Lawrence area into Boston for the Boston Symphony Orchestra Friday afternoon concerts, as it has for the past 22 years, on Friday, Oct. 2.

Sponsored by members of the Boston Symphony Association of Volunteers, the bus leaves from the corner of Phillips and Main streets at 10 a.m. on Fridays when a concert is scheduled. Stops in Boston are made at Arlington and Boylston corner, Copley Place, Prudential Center, Symphony Hall and Museum of Fine Arts. The concert begins at 2 p.m. and usually finishes about 4.

The bus leaves Symphony Hall about 10 minutes after the concert, returning directly to Andover.

Tickets to the concert are not provided by the volunteers, but can usually be purchased before the concert at Symphony Hall or by calling the box office.

Information about the bus is available from Mrs. Hart Leavitt or Mrs. Alexander Warren of Andover or Mrs. Robert Hyde of North Andover.

Park Street merchants host festivities on Saturday, to benefit archives project

In a special day-long benefit for Lawrence's Immigrant City Archives: Historical Society of Lawrence and its People, six Andover merchants will contribute a portion of their annual open house sales to the archives.

The event will be outdoors from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 3 in "Park Alley," off Park Street in downtown Andover. Admission is free.

Merchants participating are Betsy Williams The Proper Season (herbs, dried and garden flowers), Andover Books and Prints (antiquarian books), Alphabet Books and Antiques (used books and antiques), The Andover Gallery (framing), The Mercantile (consignments) and Stitches in Time (needlework).

Storytelling, ethnic foods and music, flower-arranging and cooking demonstrations are part of the festivities. Local novelist Andrew Coburn will be there to sign copies of his latest thriller, No Way Home.

Also on sale will be the just-published Immigrant City Archives: A Cookbook from Lawrence, Mass., which contains recipes reflecting the immigrant character of the city. Contributors to the cookbook are area citizens from numerous ethnic backgrounds who live in, come from or love Lawrence. The illustrated cookbook contains old photographs from present or former Lawrence residents, showing scenes of long-gone stores and markets, and family meals in kitchens and dining rooms.

Call the archives at 686-9230.

Andover Junior Garden Club holds first meeting of the year Saturday

The Andover Junior Garden Club will hold its first meeting of the year Saturday, Oct. 3, from 10 to 11:30 a.m. The group will meet on the steps of Phillips Academy Chapel for registration and tour the bird sanctuary. The club welcomes boys and girls ages 8 to 15. Dues are $10 per year, payable at the time of registration. For more information, contact leaders Jo-Ann Lovejoy at 475-8693 or Barbara Sullivan at 475-5065.

Your Dental HEALTH

by Richard D. Hopgood, D.M.D.

PRIMARY RESPONSIBILITY

While a child should certainly be encouraged to brush his or her own teeth before the age of six, it is primarily the parent's responsibility up to that point. This entails wiping the teeth, gums and tongue with a piece of moistened gauze during the time that the primary teeth begin erupting. Once six to eight primary teeth are in place a child-size toothbrush may be employed to clean youngsters' teeth. The emphasis should be placed on the scrubbing action of the bristles, which breaks up plaque formation. Toothpaste application should be limited to a slight smear, especially until the child knows not to swallow it. The important thing is to establish a twice-daily brushing habit that the child can assume on his or her own in the years to come.

Taught early enough, healthy habits turn into healthy lifestyles. Begin with proper brushing and flossing techniques and healthy foods. Continue with regular professional care and cleanings for a healthy smile that will last a lifetime. Prevention is the cornerstone of our practice here at 296 Lowell Street, Rt. 133, with easy access off Rt. 93. If you would like an appointment or if you have questions about any topic we cover in this column, please call us at 475-2431. Hours: Mon & Thurs 10-8, Tues & Fri 8-6, and by appointment. P.S. Because there are usually spaces between primary teeth, the use of floss among young children is not always essential.

Peace and Justice a timely theme at Merrimack's annual forum week

Merrimack College, during its annual Peace and Justice Week, which includes lectures, colloquiums, drama, concerts and seminars, presented a noted Holocaust scholar as its keynote speaker.

Raul Hilberg, a recognized expert on the Holocaust and internationally known historian and political scholar, spoke yesterday at Merrimack College.

Dr. Hilberg, professor emeritus of political science at the University of Vermont, is the author of The Destruction of the European Jews, Sonderzüge nach Auschwitz and the 1992 Perpetrators, Victims, Bystanders.

Other events presented earlier in the week included a faculty colloquium on "Ethics and the Professions" and a faculty/administration colloquium on "Bigotry and Racism on Campus."

Today, Thursday, at 11 a.m. there will be a musical drama, "Jesuit Martyrs, Military Clowns: El Salvador"; an environmental seminar at 12:30 p.m. and a colloquium on women at 3:30 p.m.

Tomorrow, Friday, Oct. 2, there will be an ethnic food fair at noon and a Livingston Taylor concert at 9 p.m.

For more information, call the campus ministry office at 837-5450.

South Church presenting 'The Wisdom of the Dream': a film series on the spiritual problems of modern life

South Church will offer a film series, "The Wisdom of the Dream," on the life and work of Swiss psychologist Carl Gustav Jung.

Dr. Jung spent his life studying the insights dreams offer into the deepest reaches of the human psyche. The films will be shown on Wednesdays, Oct. 7, 14 and 21. Following the viewing of each film segment, D. Stephenson Bond, North Andover psychotherapist, will lead a discussion. The films will begin at 7 p.m. and the discussion will continue until 8:30. This event is free and open to the public.

The topics of each evening are: Oct. 7: The Life of Dreams: The Life of C.G. Jung; Oct. 14: The Inheritance of Dreams: Mythology and the Collective Unconscious; Oct. 21: The World of Dreams: Insights into Modern Issues such as Addictions, War and Movies.

Havurat Shalom announces its Yom Kippur services this Wednesday

Havurat Shalom will hold Yom Kippur services Wednesday, Oct. 7, at 10 a.m. at the Trinitarian Congregational Church, 72 Elm St., North Andover. Havurat Shalom is a member of the Reconstructionist branch of Judaism.

Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement, is the culmination of 10 days of repentance. It is a time when Jews stop their usual activities to reflect upon their lives.

Havurat Shalom invites non-members to the service (a $10 family donation is requested) and the break fast at sundown (from 6 to 9 p.m.).

The break fast will be held potluck-style at the Prescott House Nursing Home, 140 Prescott St., North Andover.

For more information, call Richard Fink at 475-4062.

'Family Values' — Affirming all of society's diversity the theme this week at UU Church

The topic will be "Family Values" at the Unitarian Universalist Church of Andover this Sunday, October 4. The service begins at 10:30 a.m.

Much in the news of late, very little of a positive nature has been specified as to how we as a society will assist the wide diversity of families we find today.

In the words of Rev. Peter Richardson, minister of the church, "Is it not time to move beyond begrudging acceptance to affirmation of that diversity?"

All religious groups are invited to send their bulletins, press releases and worship service times to the Townsmen, 33 Chestnut St., to publish in these pages.

SENIOR CITIZENS

Ten of the 49 members of the class of 1927 from Pynchard High School attended the 65th reunion last Friday at Eighteen Elm Street restaurant. Twenty-one classmates are deceased. Of the 18 not attending, 14 replied to letters about the reunion and sent their classmates greetings and best wishes. Pictured here at luncheon are, seated from left, Margaret Morrissey, Louise Sullivan Markewich, Helen Saunders Young, Marjorie West Emmons and Marjorie Low Galaher. Standing, from left are, Evelyn Miller Coyne, Frances Metcalf Haines, Carol Coyne Clarke holds a photo of her mother, Evelyn Miller Coyne, Donald Bassett, Alexander Stewart and Joseph Doherty. Five classmates currently live in Andover: Annetta (Anderson) Wrigley, May E. Elander, Margaret S. Morrissey, Marjorie (West) Emmons and Irving Whitcomb. The class has lost contact with classmates Dorothy M. Hanlon and Warren B. Shiers.

Senior Center to host open house Sunday, from 2-4 p.m.

By Mary A. Byrne-Potvin

The Senior Center will host an open house Sunday, Oct. 4, from 2 to 4 p.m. We'd like to talk with people about what they would like to see at their new Senior Center for activities, etc. Refreshments will be served.

The Parkinson's Support Group will meet at the center on Monday, Oct. 5, at 1 p.m. The Alzheimer's Support Group will also meet on Oct. 5, at 7 p.m.

The Stroke Support Group will meet Thursday, Oct. 15, at 1:30 p.m.

On Tuesday, Oct. 20, we are hosting a "Karaoke" party at the center from 7 to 9 p.m. We hope you'll join us. Refreshments will be served. Ticket cost is $3.

Thursdays, Oct. 15 and 22, are the dates for the flu clinics at Doherty Middle School on Whittier Street. The shots will be given from 3:30 to 6 p.m.

Steve Conte and Steve Barsamian of New York Financial Services will be at the center Thursday, Oct. 22, at 10 a.m. The discussion will include the Homestead Protection Act and how this law protects homeowners over age 65 against seizure by lawsuit or by an unscrupulous vendor. There will also be a brief explanation of how assets can be protected.

There's a notary public at the Senior Center for your convenience.

Flu shots free to seniors

The Massachusetts Department of Public Health and Andover Board of Health will sponsor a free flu vaccination clinic for senior citizens Thursday, Oct. 15, at Doherty Middle School, 3:30-6 p.m. for Andover seniors and persons with certain chronic conditions or diseases. The Board of Health will also offer bacterial pneumonia immunization at the clinic. For those unable to attend the Oct. 15 clinic, a make-up clinic is Thursday, Oct. 22, 3:30-6 p.m. at Doherty Middle School.

Preregistration forms are available at police stations and other town locations. Although preregistration is not mandatory, picking up this form and bringing the filled-out form to the clinic will help eliminate waiting time. Medicare cards or numbers are not required for immunization this year.

Author Andrew Coburn paints images

"I do better in France and Germany than I do here. I don't know why," he said during an interview at his Farrow Drive home last week.

Mr. Coburn writes murder mysteries, mostly based on his experiences living and working in the Merrimack Valley. No Way Home takes place in the fictional town of Bensington, which abuts both Lawrence and Andover. Bensington is based on Boxford, Mr. Coburn said, but residents of Boxford shouldn't look for themselves in the book. The reason he chose Boxford was because he doesn't know anything about the town, Mr. Coburn said.

Another of his books, Goldilocks, was voted one of the best novels of 1989 by the Mystery Writers of America and nominated for an Edgar Award the same year. It takes place in Andover. One scene has Jim Doherty, town moderator, Bill Dalton, lawyer and former selectman, and Sue Tucker, former state representative, all at lunch at the Andover Inn.

In another scene, a Lawrence resident describes Andover as a "different world."

"Andover, the birds tweet. Here, we only got pigeons. All they do is crap," the character says.

Andrew Coburn's biography

Born in New Hampshire, Mr. Coburn graduated from Haverhill High School and went straight into the Army. He was stationed in Germany. He earned his bachelor's degree in English from Suffolk University in Boston, then married his wife, Casey Coburn, in 1955, and moved to Union Street in Andover in 1959. In 1963, he quit his job at a local bank and headed back to Germany where he thought he could find a better job. His wife and two daughters moved in with his father in New Hampshire while he was gone, "because they thought I was crazy, which, as it turned out, I was."

He came home, broke, took a job as a crime reporter for The Eagle-Tribune newspaper and the family moved into a house on Walnut Street. He stayed at the paper 10 years before trying writing his own work full time, and even then hedged by working as a copy editor at The Boston Globe for five more years. His first book, Trespasses, took four years to write and came out in 1974. The Coburns moved to Farrow Drive 1983.

Work habits

Mr. Coburn works in a cluttered downstairs room at home that can't measure more than 10-by-10 feet. A small window looks out onto the back yard.

"The Board of Health has condemned my office," he said, embarrassed and proud.

He fits the stereotype of a writer - cup of coffee in hand, Kent cigarette burning constantly and he works at a manual typewriter.

"When I smoke, I only half inhale

He worries that his neighbors will see him out digging in the yard at 3 in the morning and send the police down, or just think he's nuts. Sometimes in winter he will go out and shovel paths in the snow to nowhere.

and I leave long butts. So of the three packs (a day), it's only a pack and a half," he said. "I still use an old manual. It's what I'm used to. I don't think too fast."

One image of a writer Mr. Coburn does not fit is that of the boozing bar fly. Although not opposed to having a drink, he doesn't drink alcohol when he writes, and doesn't see how anyone can.

"I drink chocolate milk. I can't drink and write," he said.

And he doesn't work a 9-to-5 shift.

"I work at night most of the time. In fact, I had to get up early for you," he told a visitor at 2 in the afternoon.

He does most of his writing between 1 and 6 a.m.

"I would prefer to be up at the crack of dawn and live like other people," he said. "I just fell into that and I have no idea why. When I'm stuck on a page or a chapter, I cannot sleep."

When struggling with his writing, he will flip through the dictionary for the right word or two to get him going again. If that doesn't work, he'll either go upstairs and shave, notebook close at hand, or go out and work in his yard, planting shrubs.

"Most of the time I do it at night, I turn on the flood lights," he said.

He worries that his neighbors will see him out digging in the yard at 3 in the morning and send the police down, or just think he's nuts. Sometimes in winter he will go out and shovel paths in the snow to nowhere.

But once a novel is well under way, he has no problem working. That's the case with his next novel, tentatively named Word of Mouth, a sequel to No Way Home.

"I'm at that stage now where I can do nothing wrong," he said.

"A good day for me is three sheets a day. That's probably the most and that's a good day. But I don't use drafts, so when I'm done, I'm done."

Sources

Mr. Coburn draws on his 10 years as crime reporter and city editor in Lawrence for much of his material.

"That's how I've got my ideas for the books that I've written since," he said.

He lived on North Main Street when he was writing his first book and his office had been a children's room with names in history on the wallpaper.

"So I named all my characters in the book from the wallpaper," he said.

He writes about Andover and Lawrence because he is familiar with them.

"It's very hard to write about something you don't know about," he said. "You use that as a springboard."

But he prefers to use his imagination than to take notes and use actual facts.

"I think I write that way because I like (Franz) Kafka," he said. "Prague was his Prague, not the Prague that existed."

Ideas and imagery

"Usually my ideas come when I'm three-quarters of the way done with the book I'm on," Mr. Coburn said.

He starts by taking notes in pencil.

"When I structure the scene, I'll take notes as to what the scene is going to be about," he said. "I write from scenes and I draw stuff."

When scenes come to him, he writes them down right away.

"The exact right words - if I don't put them down at once on paper they're gone," he said.

An old picture on the wall of his office was slipping out the bottom of its frame, stopped only by the frame below it. Mr. Coburn explained that that image led to a description of a heavy woman climbing from a bathtub in Sweetheart, another of his novels.

"She looked like a baby picture falling out of its frame," Mr. Coburn loosely quoted the phrase.

He never fixed the frame.

His characters become his friends while he is working on a novel, Mr. Coburn said. Some he likes, some he doesn't. And when a character is going to die, he sometimes puts the scene off as long as possible.

"It's impossible not to become involved with them, emotionally involved," he said.

Is there a lot of himself in them?

"They're all me, but I'm not them," he said. "No. I'm all them, but they're not me."

Volleyball

He plays volleyball at South School every Thursday night with the same people, a lot of artist types who have played together since 1976. They play hard.

"The nicest thing is to jam the ball down someone else's throat," Mr. Coburn said.

He reads biographies, journals and diaries, or "fiction when I'm in between books."

Among his favorite authors are Patrick White, an Australian author who died this year, Virginia Wolfe, William Faulkner and Joseph Conrad.

He now supports himself with his writing, but it wasn't always easy.

"You have good years, you have bad years," he said. "I love it. I truly enjoy it. I can't think of anything else I would rather do."

'It's impossible not to become involved with (my characters), emotionally involved,' said Andrew Coburn.

Is there a lot of himself in them?

'They're all me, but I'm not them,' he answered.

'No. I'm all them, but they're not me.'

Parents are networking with Parent to Parent

them to communicate better, and more often, with each other about their children and parenting concerns.

This year the group did not receive the same funding it did from the state last year and is not able to mail for free its three-issue newsletter to the approximately 1,500 parents.

"This year we're mailing the newsletter to our subscribers only," said Ms. O'Brien.

So far, the group received about 150, $5 subscriptions. Ms. O'Brien said Parent to Parent will need approximately 350 more subscribers to pay for the typesetting, printing and mailing of the newsletter.

The last editions of the Parent to Parent newsletter addressed the issues of sexuality, sex education at school and at home, and how parents can best discuss these issues with their children.

"We get input from the parents who attended the workshops and discussion groups about what they would like to see in the newsletter," Ms. O'Brien said.

Also included in the newsletter is a calendar of events in the elementary and middle schools, a reading list of books on the focus topic and responses to the topics from children in the health education classes that Ms. O'Brien teaches.

Susan Joyner, 93 Greenwood Road, has been involved in the schools' ASK Team (Assessment, Support and Knowledge), a substance abuse prevention and education program for children and parents in the Andover public schools. Ms. Joyner, the mother of a seventh-grader at West Middle School, believes Parent to Parent provides a larger, townwide vehicle to help parents interact with parents, not just those who have children in the same school.

"Parenting is the most difficult job there is. It's always good to be able to talk to other parents about the issues that concern you," she said.

Joan Ellis, 10 Willard Circle, who has two children at Doherty Middle School, said she finds the informal discussion groups as informative as the workshops and lectures given by professionals. Lectures and workshops are scheduled by the Parent to Parent board. Parents organize informal discussions when they please.

"It's reassuring to talk to other parents and find out that what your child is going through is the same as other parents' children. I was surprised to find out that some seventh- and eighth-grade students spend hours on the phone. It isn't a problem at our house," she said.

Betty Mobbs, 62 Porter Road, one of the founding organizers of Parent to Parent, said she saw a need for a support and discussion group targeted for parents of older children. According to Ms. Mobbs, the mother of four children between the ages of 6 months and 20, there are several well-organized support groups for mothers of pre- and early-grade school children. But she said the town was lacking a group for parents of older children.

"It helps to know other parents beyond the ones that your child associates with," she said.

Ms. Mobbs believes young people are dealing with peer pressure and having to make lifestyle and health decisions much earlier than ever before. Parent to Parent provides her and other parents with valuable information on how to do the best job possible communicating with their children.

Fran Booth, 89 Wildwood Drive, said she felt "renewed and energized" after attending several of the parenting workshops and wanted to continue interacting with other parents interested in sharing and learning about the changing issues they and their children face.

"Parent to Parent's goal is to articulate a variety of options that experts and other parents suggest to communicate better with your children and make parenting less stressful. If there is more information, parents can make better informed decisions," she said.

Ms. Booth, the mother of a 3-, 7- and 9-year-old, said when she was growing up one of the biggest fears her parents had was that she wouldn't walk directly home from school.

"Today in the '90s there are so many more complex issues for children and parents to work through, especially with all the mixed messages kids are getting today from their peers and the media," said Ms. Booth. "There isn't a universal agreement about limits and what's expected. I think it makes it easier to talk to and have support from parents who are trying to impart on their kids the same values you are."

Future lecture topics

This fall, Parent to Parent will sponsor a lecture and workshop on fostering children's independence, said Ms. O'Brien. The issues explored will include homework, allowance, time management and personal responsibility.

The winter's topic will be instilling values and will discuss peer pressure, trust, cheating and several other topics.

The spring lectures and workshops will focus on the increasing pressures and time constraints children face. It is tentatively titled recreation and leisure vs. the hurried life.

Anyone interested in subscribing to the newsletter or receiving more information should contact Brenda O'Brien at the school office building at Whittier Court, 470-3800.

Parents may force special town meeting

By Lisa Boudreau

The School Committee has requested that the Board of Selectmen schedule a special fall town meeting to ask voters to borrow $2.4 million for major school repairs. If the selectmen don't vote at their Monday meeting to schedule the meeting, parents may collect the 100 signatures needed to call the meeting.

"There are a fair number of people in town who want to see this problem resolved and have the town move onto other issues," said Susan Jenkins, chairwoman of the School Committee. "We have the support from parents and from citizens in the town who don't have kids, but are interested in maintaining our buildings."

The Board of Selectmen, the School Committee and Finance Committee will discuss the need for a special town meeting at a joint meeting Monday, Oct. 5, in the town office building on Bartlett Street at 7 p.m.

The following repairs are slated to be done if $2.4 million is borrowed: drainage and asbestos removal at West Elementary; roof and boiler replacement at Bancroft; media roof, heating system, classroom renovations, asbestos removal and brick and thermal window pane replacement at West Middle; and security systems at both middle schools, the high school and Bancroft.

Selectmen delayed making a decision two weeks ago and instead scheduled the Monday meeting to discuss the proposal and how it would be funded. Under the School Committee plan the debt would be paid off in five years with the schools' $600,000 yearly-share of Capital Improvement money pledged by the town administration to pay for town and school building repairs.

Charles Wesson, chairman of selectmen, said his board delayed calling a special fall town meeting because it "wanted to give the Finance Committee a chance to study the proposal and listen to what they have to say."

Mr. Wesson said his board acknowledges that the schools have a number of "major" problems that need to be done right away, and that it could cost the town more if the work is delayed.

"The question that remains unanswered is what is the best way to pay for it. I haven't made up my mind yet," Mr. Wesson said.

The Finance Committee met last week, Wednesday, Sept. 23, to go over the School Committee proposal and prepare for Monday night's meeting with the two town boards.

"We agree that those repairs need to be done, but what the Finance Committee is concerned with is the specific funding," said Don Robb, chairman of the FinCom.

According to Mr. Robb, the School Committee proposal would tie up Capital Improvement money for at least five years to pay off the bond, leaving less money for repairs currently unidentified in other school and town buildings.

"We are concerned with committing to do it all with a five-year (debt) plan," he said.

Forget blaming, try networking

It would be easy to say that the parents who skipped Superintendent Mark McQuillan's excellent speech on civic responsibility last week are skipping out on their civic responsibility. The auditorium at Doherty Middle School was full of women, parents of older children. The 45-or-so who attended were mostly members of the League of Women Voters of Andover, which sponsored the event.

Today's parents are busy. Some probably were busy last week in activities that involve their children.

Many adults believe that our children's moral values are slipping, and statistics support that idea. What is happening to our children? Why are they acting out? Who is to blame? What can we do about it? How can we teach our children moral and civic responsibility?

Some of the answers are more obvious than others. Adults need to participate in civic activities. We must vote, and we need to reach out to others less fortunate than ourselves. That will help our children learn to set good priorities.

But there are other answers to our troubling questions. One of the solutions is networking — talking with other parents, sharing ideas and practices, and gaining confidence in making decisions and setting and maintaining limits for our children.

Parent to Parent, the support group for parents of children in grades four-eight, is one good way of networking. It's difficult to be a parent. Our only lessons in parenting came from our own parents, many of whom had a difficult time at it.

Perot should go

Those who have been sucked into H. Ross Perot's game of I-will-run/I won't run should face the truth. Mr. Perot is an authoritarian businessman who is teasing the public. In fact, he reminds us of a cult leader in that he has failed to let voters know what he stands for and his followers have little idea of his positions.

35 nude females: Is this pornography?

By Perry Colmore Catlin

There is a photography exhibit in Newburyport of nude women. They are as young as a few months and as old as 80-something. Brought to my attention by a male friend who felt uncomfortable with the idea of going to it alone, lest he be seen as a voyeur, I said, yes, it sounded interesting.

That was Sunday. Now it's Tuesday and I still don't know exactly what I think of it. The exhibit is thought-provoking, moving and confusing.

Frank Cordelle of Bennington, N.H., the photographer, has shots of babies, developing teen-agers, a very sexy 13-year-old, older women who are in great shape, fat women, an anorexic woman, a woman who has had a mastectomy and a woman whose breasts are pocked with indentations due to the fact that she has an active case of cancer.

Most of the women are photographed straight on, many standing, some sitting. One older teen

Opposes $400k for architectural drawings

Editor, Townsmen:

I am a strong supporter of the Andover school system. However, I am opposed to the request for $400,000 to have architect's drawings done before the town decides to build and if they do, how much they want to spend. Once the building committee has a budget, then they should work with the architects within that confine. We have already spent thousands of dollars on the DeNisco report, which told us the physical condition and needs of each school building.

Several years have passed and much has gone undone because of lack of funds. If the town so soundly beat the school override of Prop. 2 1/2 last year (since the economy has become worse) why would they support millions on additional space?

I also question the need for additional classroom space now. There is no question that there is overcrowding in the elementary schools and that during more prosperous times either the additions or even a new school would be built.

It would be much wiser to spend money putting back programs and teachers that have been so severely cut over the past several years. It is the teachers and programs that educate, not the bricks and mortar. How can you lower the student-teacher ratio with new classrooms if you don't have the money to hire more teachers to fill them?

Perhaps we could use the current space more efficiently. Had the School Committee not closed the Early Childhood Center, each school would have gained at least two classrooms that are now being used by kindergartens (the original purpose of the center was to alleviate overcrowding).

The $400,000 would have run the Early Childhood Center for several years. That's just for the architect's fees, never mind the millions for the actual building. Additionally, if one looks at statistics, they will see that elementary school enrollment fluctuates and that we have hit the high point as kindergarten enrollment is declining. It is also the end of the baby boomers having children and birth rates should be declining.

Murphy calls for ceiling on campaign spending

Editor, Townsmen:

Coming off an exhilarating victory in the September primary, I look forward to challenging the incumbent to represent the people of Andover and Lawrence.

Raising the funds to mount an effective campaign is a humbling experience. I am very grateful to my family and friends who are providing the financial resources to make my candidacy possible. However, I am troubled by the increasing amounts of money necessary to match the war chests of incumbents and their network of vested interest contributors.

Since January 1991, my opponent has raised over $35,000 and spent over $25,000 for a job that pays only $30,000. And there was no election in 1991. What is really distressing is that it seems so unnecessary, particularly in a representative's race where the voters could be reached effectively by candidates for far less money. In a state representative's race, word of mouth and an effective local press should be able to present the information necessary for voters to make an informed decision.

Otherwise, candidates can be sold like a soft drink or the latest fad. Excessive spending squelches public dialogue and debate, ensuring victory for the bigger spender.

People are fed up. But, from what I have seen and heard, they have not given up. Change will come. I hope to be part of that change. Campaign spending limits, term limitations and other reforms will happen. The people's voices will not be stifled.

I would welcome the challenge to limit spending in this race. I believe spending campaign funds judiciously is not only right but also good preparation for conserving the tax money of family, friends, neighbors and local businesses on Beacon Hill.

Ellen T. Murphy
Candidate for state representative

Praises Josh Miner and his story

Editor, Townsmen:

My congratulations to Don Staruk on his excellent profile of Josh Miner in the Sept. 24 Townsmen ("Awakening an excitement for living," page 1).

As a friend and admirer of Josh (and his long ago predecessor as guardian of the PA admissions portals), I can say without equivocation that I regard his contribution to the whole U.S. educational scene, via the Outward Bound Program and its manifold ramifications, as of major importance in facing up to the problems of our society today.

Whether it involves "preppies" or juvenile delinquents, Josh Miner regards "the misery of unimportance" as "probably our worst social disease," and his dedicated enthusiasm has had a profound effect in spreading the Outward Bound message nationwide and even worldwide.

Is this exhibit pornographic?

has covered most of her body in what looks like shame. Many of them look out at you, and seem to say, for example, "This is me. This is what 72 looks like."

They are not posed in physically provocative stances; they are posed so that we feel we might know what they are thinking during this experience.

Beside most of the photos are short notes written either by the subject or by the photographer. Mr. Cordelle tells us that the woman with breast cancer has died. He tells us about some women who originally were reluctant to be photographed and how he told them to act natural.

His project is called "Century" and he plans to photograph women age zero to 100. He's photographed the birth of four or five boys, waiting to capture the first look of a girl just born.

The women who wanted to, wrote about the experience of being photographed nude and several of them said the experience was transforming.

Mr. Cordelle said two women who came to see the exhibit volunteered to be photographed for the project. He pointed to one woman viewing the exhibit Sunday and said, "That woman over there is the one with the mastectomy."

Mr. Cordelle told us that one woman who had been raped "acted out" during her photography session, using the photographer as the target of her anger at her horrible experience. She yelled at him and cried. I think she was the one who said after the session that she wanted to sit for a second set of photos because the first had been so moving, so therapeutic.

I asked if, like a doctor with a chaperone in his office, he had anyone with him while photographing these women. He doesn't seem to believe he will get into trouble.

I asked him if he will now photograph nude men. He said several people have asked that. "Frankly, I am not as attracted to the male body," he answered.

He said he will leave that project to someone else.

The confusion, for me, is if any of the exhibit is pornography. I wondered about the children, not the women. The children can't advocate for themselves. I wondered about the voluptuous 13-year-old whose judgment might not be as mature as her body.

But I do know that Mr. Cordelle has brought to life the confusion that women, and probably men, have about their imperfect bodies. His photos seem to say that imperfect is fine - a sort of an I'm not OK and you're not OK and that's OK.

Frank Cordelle's approximately 35 photos are at the Newburyport Center for Yoga and Health, 12 Maple St., Newburyport, phone 463-4354. The hours are Tuesdays and Thursdays, 4-6; Wednesdays, 9:30-noon; and Sundays, 1-4. The exhibit is scheduled to be in Newburyport through Oct. 18.

We can only offer devout thanks that his early ambition to become a cocktail lounge pianist was not realized; he would never have been a serious rival to Dave McKenna or Eddie Higgins.

At the risk of finding one flaw in the Parthenon, I feel it incumbent on me, as an Old Blue of the "Whatta we ear? Red Meat!" era, to report that Mr. Miner did not "graduate Phillips Academy in 1939." For better or worse, he was one of a trio of Phillips Exeter "moles" who penetrated the pristine facade of the original Phillips Academy, of which the New Hampshire version is sometimes regarded as a pallid imitation.

Whether Miner or Staruk was responsible for this minor (no pun intended) biographical blooper is of no importance and in no way detracts from the distinguished credentials of a man who has made a big difference in his community and in his country.

Well done, Josh!

RECYCLING

By Virginia Cole

Recycling is catching on, even if we don't have the perfect plan in Andover. I, too, have found Waste Management doing better at my summer home than they do in Andover. I am as annoyed as some of you who have written the Townsmen about the cans, plastic and aluminum that we can only get rid of once a month. York, Maine, has come to recycling only in the last few years and yet they pick up tin cans, plastic and aluminum along with the glass and papers they do here.

I suggest you contact the people who can improve our system, the town manager, selectmen and Department of Public Works. We can all read the paper but the paper does not make the decisions.

Information has been sent me that curbside programs have been launched in 47 states, all but Alaska, Delaware and Wyoming. And materials recovery facilities are sorting recyclables in 34 states, with more than 100 of these MRF's under construction. Composting facilities have been opened in all but four states; this a direct result of laws banning grass clippings, tree limbs and other yard waste from landfills and incinerators.

Five states have already surpassed EPA's suggested target for recycling more than 25 percent of their waste stream. They are Washington state (34 percent), Minnesota (31 percent), New Jersey (30 percent), Massachusetts (29 percent) and Michigan (25 percent).

Unit pricing, which Andover Recycling has talked about for a long time, is being used in many parts of the country. Perkasee, Pa., had its waste stream decline 60 percent when it began requiring residents to put trash out in special bags - ones the residents had to pay a fee for, which gave them an economic incentive to

Struggling volleyball team hopes to gain lost ground

By Rick Harrison

The Andover High girls' varsity volleyball team, struggling for the first time in a long time, tumbled to 1-4 overall last week with consecutive losses to Billerica (2-1), undefeated Lawrence (2-0) and Chelmsford (2-0), three teams with a glitzy combined record of 14-2.

However, the Lady Warriors were expected to turn things around and square their ledger this week with matches against Haverhill, Tewksbury and Wilmington (tomorrow afternoon), three teams entered this week with a composite record of 1-14.

Then it's back to the 'iron' again next week when Dracut, Billerica and Lowell provide the opposition.

Billerica, 2-1

Andover won the first game, 16-14, but lost returning league All-Star Carrie Green with a knee injury in the process.

Billerica took advantage of her absence to win the next two games 15-12 and 15-6.

The Lady Warriors, who erased a 13-6 deficit with an impressive 10-1 run in that opening game, had strong efforts from seniors Melissa Minot, Julie Doherty and Joanna Moynihan.

Lawrence, 2-0

Veteran Kerry Hagerty, a team captain and returning All-Conference player, was a bright spot in an otherwise dim match as the host Warriors were slugged 15-5, 15-6 by Lawrence.

Melissa Minot also played well in the sweep.

Chelmsford, 2-0

The Ljons made Andover their fourth straight victim following a season-opening loss, topping the locals 15-8 and 15-13.

Seniors Sarah Tully and Erinne Sullivan were top servers for AHS, while Leah Mason and Kerry Hagerty contributed solid defensive efforts. Miss Mason had been elevated from the junior varsity squad.

Andover JVs

The AHS junior varsity, 23-2 in its last 25 matches, continued to roll with a 2-1 triumph over Billerica and 2-0 sweep of Chelmsford.

Standouts in the 15-4, 11-15, 15-8 victory over Billerica were Becka Goldenberg (hitting and serving), Katie Jurdi (setting), Leah Mason and Stephanie Casey (20 service points, one ace).

Playing well in the symmetrical 15-5, 15-5 victory over Chelmsford were Amy Lumley, Allison Ahern, Stephanie Casey and Cindy Su.

Gridders return to action Friday

The Andover High football team returns to action tomorrow night in its home opener against Lawrence.

Kickoff time at Eugene V. Lovely Field is 7:15 p.m.

Lawrence should be just what the doctor ordered for the Golden Warriors, who were idle last weekend and have had two weeks to lick their wounds and seethe over a disappointing 6-0 debut loss to Methuen.

The Rangers were subsequently buried by Billerica 33-0 last week, which doesn't bode well for Andover unless it can get the offense in gear pronto.

Lawrence is off to another miserable start, allowing 91 points in consecutive losses to Haverhill (45-0) and Wilmington (46-20).

AHS Head Coach Dick Collins and his staff have made several small adjustments in an effort to awaken the sleeping giant, which played a solid defensive game against Methuen but was limited to a surprising two first downs, three yards passing and well under 100 total yards on offense.

Tomorrow night Andover hopes to stabilize the quarterback situation and celebrate the breakout of potential All-Star skill players Steve Shepard and Alan Guibord.

Andover JVs

The Golden Warrior junior varsity squad got a measure of revenge with a 14-6 victory over Methuen at Lovely Field.

Dana McCann had a 32 yard TD run and Eric Thompson unloaded a 40-yard scoring pass to Jeff Arsenault. Peter Daniels played a strong defensive game.

Church Basketball League holds registration

The Andover Church Basketball League is currently holding registration for the 1992-93 season.

The following coordinators are now signing up youth for league play: Ed Collings and Ray Gibbons (Ballardvale United), Ed Rouillard (Free Christian), Joe Tripi (St. Augustine's), Al Eggert (South), Bob French (St. Robert's) and Dick Muller (West Parish).

Youth who live in Andover and do not attend a town church, or youth who attend an Andover church that does not have a team, may register for the league.

Registration forms are available from the church coordinators or may be obtained at the Andover Hockey Shop, Shawsheen Square and Village Sampler, 34 Chestnut St.

The fee is $20.00.

The league has five divisions: Junior (3rd-4th grade), Intermediate boys (5th-6th grade), Intermediate girls (5th-6th grade), Senior boys (7th-8th grade) and Senior girls (7th-8th grade).

Teams practice one hour each week.

Juniors play games on Wednesday night. All other divisions play on Sunday afternoon.

Sue McGillivray wins Merrimack College biathlon

Bill Solimine of Mansfield and Sue McGillivray of Andover were the overall winners Saturday at the First Merrimack College Biathlon. Nearly 200 competitors participated in the 2.5-mile run, 11.3-mile bike, followed by another 2.5-mile run. The run was almost entirely on the college campus, while the bike traversed the back roads of Andover and North Andover.

Proceeds went towards the Jacqueline McGillivray Scholarship Fund, which will be given to future Merrimack College student-athletes.

Mr. Solimine's time was 56 minutes, 41 seconds. He won handily over runner-up Steve Gautreau of Wakefield (1:00.48). Ms. McGillivray clocked 1:13:06 for the course, conceived and designed by her husband, race director and Merrimack College alumnus Dave McGillivray. Jackie Burke of Charlestown was the second female finisher in 1:15:55.

Mr. McGillivray said following the successful race that he may plan a college and university biathlon series for next year, which may ultimately end in a nationwide circuit.

within a few years with a final in Daytona Beach during spring break.

Top five individual winners for men and women are:

Men: 1, Bill Solimine, Mansfield, 56:41; 2, Steve Gautreau, Wakefield, 1:00.48; 3, Paul Fermes, Madison, Conn., 1:01.02; 4, James Buresh, South Weymouth, 1:01.32; 5, Peter Moorfield, Acton, 1:02.04.

Women: 1, Sue McGillivray, Andover, 1:13.06; 2, Jackie Burke, Charlestown, 1:15.50; 3, Kathie O'Neil, Salem, Mass., 1:15.55; 4, Sharon Dobbyn, Winthrop, 1:18.39; 5, Susan Bright, Salem, Mass., 1:20.49.

Bowhunting seminar offered

A free bowhunting seminar will be held starting Wednesday, Oct. 7, at 7 p.m. at the Boston Hill Archery Center, 1275 Turnpike St (Route 114), North Andover, and continue the next two Wednesdays.

A follow-up field exercise will be held Saturday, Oct. 24, from 9 a.m. to noon.

Preregistration is required. Call Bill at 689-0000.

Attendance is open to adult men and women and minors over 10 years with parental permission.

Heart Walk is Saturday, Oct. 3

The Greater Lowell Branch of the American Heart Association and student government of the University of Lowell will co-sponsor an American Heart Walk Saturday, Oct. 3, to raise money for the AHA while promoting healthful exercise. The walk will begin at 11 a.m. with registration at 10 a.m. For more information, call the American Heart Association at (617) 620-1700; Ext. 3911.

Girls' cross country team wins nailbiter; boys not so lucky

By Rick Harrison

The Andover High girls' cross country team won a nailbiter, 27-28, while the boys ran into a buzzsaw en route to a 15-45 loss to visiting Chelmsford High last week.

Both Warrior teams emerged from the afternoon with 1-2-0 overall records, and the girls have already been involved in a pair of one-point decisions.

The locals were listed as underdogs yesterday when Lowell High came to town for a pair of Merrimack Valley Conference dual meets. Both Red Raider teams entered with perfect 3-0-0 records.

Next Wednesday Coach Leo Lafond's Andover harriers hit the road for an MVC tri-meet at Methuen against the host team and Billerica.

Andover girls

Senior Diane Ellsworth's 10th place finish clinched the victory, rounding out a balanced effort that also saw the Lady Warriors grab four of the top six places.

Chelmsford's undefeated Staci Keane made a personal shambles of the race, covering Andover's woody 2.6 mile course in 16:02 to win by more than one minute.

AHS senior Tri-Captain Heather Holmader was second overall in 17:20, and bunched together in fourth, fifth and sixth were junior Amanda Grasso, senior Tri-Captain Amanda Holmes and senior Tri-Captain Ellen Sullivan.

The Lions (1-2-0 overall) swept the next three spots before Miss Ellsworth rounded out the top 10 and secured the triumph for the Lady Warriors.

The locals had dropped a tough 27-28 verdict to Dracut the previous week.

Andover boys

The AHS boys couldn't contend with Chelmsford's superior depth, as the Lions (2-1-0 overall) pitched the equivalent of a shutout by sweeping the top five places over the 2.6 mile course.

Owen Evans was the individual race winner.

Senior Quad-Captain Erik Dahlstrand was the initial Andover finisher, sixth overall, and other top 10 placers were senior Todd Taylor (8th), senior Quad-Captain Brian Twomey (9th) and junior Kevin Sharkey (10th).

Twomey continues his comeback from off-season surgery.

American Diabetes Association holds 10-mile pledge walk, Sunday, Oct. 4

American Diabetes Association, Massachusetts affiliate is sponsoring a 10-mile pledge walk Sunday, Oct. 4, to raise funds for research and education programs.

Registration will be at 7:30 a.m. at Merrimack College, 315 Turnpike St., North Andover. Walk begins at 9 a.m. rain or shine.

For further information, call Tracey Thompson at 567-3671.

St. John's Hospital hosts golf tournament

The Ladies of St. John's Hospital will host the sixth annual Autumn Classic Golf Tournament at Indian Ridge Country Club Monday, Oct. 5.

This year's event will honor Marilyn T. Campbell, chairwoman for the past five years. Under her leadership, the golf tournament has become a major fund-raising event.

The money raised will be used to offset the cost of the new ambulatory surgery center, which is in full operation.

This year's committee is led by chairwomen Ellen Sullivan and Trish O'Donnell.

A full day of golf will be followed by late afternoon activities, which include dinner and an auction.

Those who would like to play or join the festivities should call the volunteer office at St. John's in Lowell.

School lunches are listed on page 15.

Lady Warriors stay tied for fourth place in MVC field hockey standings

By Rick Harrison

The Andover High varsity field hockey team remained tied for fourth place in the Merrimack Valley Conference last week, a lopsided 5-1 loss to Wilmington offset by a 2-0 whitewash of Tewksbury to leave the Lady Warriors at 2-2-1 overall after five games.

Coach Sandy Lunt's crew entered the week tied with Dracut and trailing undefeated Tyngsboro (4-0-1), Wilmington (4-1-0) and Chelmsford (3-1-1) in the standings.

A key three-game week is on tap, a contest at powerhouse Tyngsboro tomorrow afternoon (3:30 p.m.) completing the first half of the season after home games earlier this week against Lawrence and Dracut.

Wilmington, 5-1

Wilmington super forward Lynette Berger continued her assault on the Wildcats' record books at Andover's expense, sticking home four goals to pace the 5-1 romp over Andover.

The victory was the fourth straight for Wilmington, undefeated at that time but later KO'd 2-0 by Tyngsboro.

Andover senior Captain Jen Batts continued her superb play, setting up the lone AHS goal by senior forward Sarah Wallace. It was the first goal surrendered by Wilmington netminder Karen Semonelli in four games.

Junior Tanielle Smith was bombarded with 23 shots in the Andover net, and came away with 18 saves, while veteran senior midfielder Jinyi Joo contributed a strong all-around effort.

The Wildcats struggled in the first half, inching ahead 1-0 before erupting to score four goals in the second half.

Ironstone Farm hosts Special Olympic equestrian games

The Donovan Family of Ironstone Farm at 456 Lowell St. will host the Northeastern Massachusetts Regional Special Olympic Equestrian Games Sunday, Oct. 4. About 60 athletes are expected to participate in the annual event that will involve more than 40 volunteers drawn from the Ironstone Farm riding program and 4-H Club, area companies and local school community service programs.

Horses will be donated by Ironstone Farm for the day. Following the event there will be a spaghetti supper for volunteers at St. Francis Retreat Center with catering donated by Lenzi's of Lowell.

According to State Coach Bar-

Andover, 2-0

Tewksbury outshot the Lady Warriors by a wide 17-9 margin, but Tanielle Smith was perfect in goal to key the shutout triumph before the home crowd.

The shutout was Andover's third in five games, coming on the heels of a scoreless tie with Methuen and 3-0 whitewash of Haverhill.

Senior forward Sarah Witham and Jinyi Joo notched early goals, the first of the season for both, as AHS moved out to a 2-0 halftime lead.

Tanielle Smith took center stage in the second half.

Jen Batts set up one goal, her team-high fourth point in five games, and senior Captain Melissa Letch had the other assist.

Miss Batts contributed an outstanding all-around field game, while senior Captain Katie Walsh also played well defensively.

Andover JVs

Sarah Weir, Christine Anderson and Christine Durant netted goals as the AHS junior varsity trimmed Haverhill 3-0. Nicole Kramer and Lauren Gregg notched assists. Kathleen Harris was the shutout goaltender.

Harris came back with her fourth shutout of the season as Andover and Tewksbury struggled to a scoreless tie. Melissa Pino and Christine Anderson played well.

In freshman action Andover was blanked 3-0 by Methuen.

bara DeNitto of North Andover, the "special riders" have been training for several months for this event. Gold Medal winners will qualify for state competition, scheduled for Nov. 7 at Windrush Farm in Boxford.

Therapeutic riding, used more and more nationwide as therapy for people with physical, mental and emotional disabilities, is the foundation of the Special Olympic Equestrian Games. Formerly a demonstration sport, equestrian athletes competed officially for the first time in the International Special Olympic Games in Minnesota in 1991, with more than 100 riders representing countries from all over the world.

Basketball school dates announced

The 10th annual Red Raiders Basketball School for boys and girls will be held Oct. 31, Nov. 7, 14 and 21 at the Lowell High Field House.

The unique Super Saturday hoop clinics are open to any youngster ages 9-18 years in the Merrimack Valley area.

Andover's Charlie Ryan, the former successful Lowell High boys' basketball coach, is the camp director. Ryan has assembled a group of first-rate area high school coaches to be on his clinic staff.

Featured guest lecturers include Jimmy Myers (Sports Radio WEEI and Fox TV 25 sportscaster), super basketball agent Frank Catapano, John Bagley of the Boston Celtics, Kevin Woelfel who coached the Haverhill High girls to the 1992 state title, Bobby Licare of Central Catholic and the University of Lowell Division 2 championship team, Methuen High girls' coach Mimi Hyde Stott who has won several league and state titles, and Jim Todd who is head coach of perennial Division III powerhouse team Salem State College.

In the Boys' Division each session will run from 8 a.m. to noon, while in the Girls' Division each session will run from noon to 4 p.m.

Interested youngsters are encouraged to apply early because the clinics will be filled to capacity.

Discounts are available for two or more in a family, and schedule conflicts (due to playing another fall sport, etc.) will be handled.

Applications must be obtained in advance by calling Charlie Ryan at 475-4654.

The cost for the clinic is $80 for the entire four weeks.

The boys' staff includes coaches Dave Fazio (Andover), Kevin McDermott (BillERICA), Tom Gallagher (Dracut), Ed Scollan (Westford Academy), Jim Weymouth (Methuen), Dan O'Rourke (Lawrence), Buzzy McHale (Tyngsboro), Mike Crowley (Lowell), Larry McGrath (Salem, N.H.) and many more.

Girls' coaches include Mike O'Brien (Notre Dame Academy), Susan Rowe Powers (Wilmington), John Moore (Lowell), Rino Beniati (Salem, N.H.), Nancy Williams (Chelmsford).

Dennis Canney will be the program director.

Diana Liberty's winning efforts not enough for whole AHS swim team

By Rick Harrison

Freshman sensation Diana Liberty qualified for the State Meet in the 500 freestyle and 200 individual medley, winning both events, and she also anchored a victorious relay team to highlight the Andover High girls' swim team effort in a 106-80 Merrimack Valley Conference dual meet loss to Lowell High last week.

The setback left Coach Marilyn Fitzgerald's squad at 1-1-0 overall, as the Lady Warrior natators prepare to host MVC opponent Notre Dame Academy of Tyngsboro tomorrow (3:30 p.m.) at the Greater Lawrence Regional pool.

Miss Liberty, called "a gift from heaven" by her coach, won the 500 freestyle (her specialty) in 5:15.45 and the 200 IM in 2:17.0.

Both times were also the best posted in the league thus far this season.

Diana also swam the final leg on the 200 freestyle relay, following junior Mandy Wilson, senior Karen Murphy and senior Tri-Captain Chrissy DerAnanian who were clocked in 1:51.99.

Golfers clear hurdle by edging Haverhill

By Rick Harrison

The Andover High golf team cleared a major hurdle last week by edging perennial power Haverhill 6-1/2 to 5-1/2 at Haverhill Country Club.

The triumph kept the defending Merrimack Valley Conference Large School co-champs in the thick of this fall's title chase, tied for second place with Billerica at 4-1-0.

Both are pursuing defending co-champ Chelmsford which entered this week's play undefeated at 4-0-0 league and 5-0-0 overall.

Coach Bob Lawson's Warrior links-men, third in the State last year and 17-2-1 in their last 20 MVC matches, were scheduled to play Billerica (at Indian Ridge) and Tewksbury (at Trull Brook) earlier this week.

Lowell invades Indian Ridge tomorrow afternoon and the rematch with Haverhill is next Monday at IRCC.

Andover and Haverhill couldn't have played it much closer. Both teams won four individual matches, but the Golden Warriors prevailed by taking two best ball points and halving a third.

Mike Spencer of Haverhill was the overall medalist with a 38, three over par on his home course, while team medalist for Andover was junior Co-Captain Greg LeBreck with a 40.

The triumph kept the defending Merrimack Valley Conference Large School co-champs in the thick of this fall's title chase.

Chalking up wins for Andover were No. 2 man LeBreck, freshman No. 3 Jeff Mazza, No. 5 senior Co-Captain Justin Hesenius and junior No. 8 Mark Escott.

LeBreck edged the Hillies' Tim Downer, 2-up, Mazza rolled over Tom Clifford, 3-and-1, Hesenius trimmed Russ Martin, 3-and-1, and Escott handled Dave Thornton, 3-and-1.

AHS freshman No. 1 Dave Shaffer played well, carding a 42 en route to a 2-and-1 loss to Spencer.

Also dropping tough 1-up matches were sophomore No. 4 Mike Trombly and sophomore No. 6 C.J. Dadd, while sophomore No. 7 Dan Hansberry was edged out 2-and-1.

Liberty's efforts not enough

Despite the graduation of several key performers, Andover continued to dominate the one-meter diving as seniors Amanda Schaaake and Anne Milmoie finished 1-2 with 154.50 and 151.45 points respectively.

Sophomore veteran Tracie Grant had an impressive afternoon as well, winning the 100 butterfly (1:03.39), earning second in the 100 backstroke, and swimming the lead leg on a second place 200 medley relay that also included junior Mindy Fox, senior Tri-Captain Molly Grassis and Mandy Wilson.

Miss Grant's times in the 100 fly and 100 back were both good enough to qualify for the State Meet.

Fox, Grant, Der-

Ananian and Liberty joined forces for second place in the 400 freestyle relay.

Other Andover runners-up were Mandy Wilson (50 free), Chrissy Der-Ananian (100 free) and junior Ronit Shteyer (100 breaststroke), while Der-Ananian was also third in the 200 free.

Mindy Fox placed fourth (2:24.49) and Carrie Moran fifth (2:24.88) in the 200 free, while Katie Lennon (50 free) was fourth and Whitney Bates (30:39) fifth for the 50 free.

Kerry Brady placed fourth overall in diving with a 136.00 point total.

The Lady Warriors hope to have sprinter Meghan Miller back for Notre Dame tomorrow.

By Don Staruk

The air is cool and dry, the days are still long and there is still plenty of time to get out on the road and train for this year's Feaster Five five-mile road race to be held in downtown Andover Thanksgiving morning.

The fifth annual Feaster Five Road Race and Health Walk starts at 8:30 a.m. on Thursday, Nov. 26. Approximately 2,860 runners completed the race last year and organizers are expecting even more participants this year.

"I'm hoping we top 4,000," John Burke, co-director of the race, said this week.

Part of the increase is due to the first official addition of a walkers' category this year.

The race is organized by the Merrimack Valley Striders Running Club and benefits Lazarus House, a homeless shelter in Lawrence, and the Merrimack Valley Running Club's youth track programs.

Sponsors include the Andover Townsman, DeMoulas Market Basket, Andover Walk-in Medical Center, Orthopedic Rehabilitation Affiliates, Bernardin Insurance, Power Bar, Veryfine juices, Saucony, Turkey Hill Farm, Dr. James J. Peck and Athlete's Corner.

The entry fee is $12 before Nov. 5 and $10 after. Applications are available at the Townsman, Bernardin Insurance and Athlete's Corner.

Runners and walkers who register before Nov. 5 will receive a sweatshirt. All finishers, including walkers, will receive the traditional apple pie, supplied this year by DeMoulas.

The first 100 volunteers who sign up to help with the race will also receive free sweatshirts. Call Bill Pennington, 475-6347, or John Burke, 372-6160.

Highlights of this year's race include an appearance by Johnny Kelly, the 84-year-old marathon legend who twice won the Boston Marathon, came in second seven times and completed Boston 61 times. Mr. Kelly retired from marathoning after competing his 61st Boston run last April.

Fitness Expo

In addition to being at the race, Mr. Kelly will be a featured guest at the Fitness Expo the day before the race, from 2-8 p.m., at the Doherty Middle School.

The expo will offer free massage therapists, a question-and-answer format on injury prevention and rehabilitation, blood pressure, fat and cholesterol testing, sports equipment sales and raffle prizes including shoes, Christmas trees and magazine subscriptions.

Training runs on the course are scheduled for every Saturday morning in November starting at 8:30 from the Athlete's Corner at 10 Main St. Fernando Braz, coach of the Merrimack Valley Striders, will lead the runs and answer questions for runners.

YOUTH SOCCER

Under 14 Division Methuen White Caps 4 Andover Blast 0

Relentless pressure on the Andover fullbacks at the outset produced three breakaway goals by Methuen. The half ended with Methuen ahead 3-0. Andover put increasing pressure on the Methuen goal, which resulted in great scoring opportunities but no goals. The Andover forward line of Lora Morgan, Christina Arcidy and Michelle Empey played well as did goalie Heather Young and center fullback Katherine Blais.

Andover Blazers 3 Beverly Blazers 3

Amanda Piercy connected on a penalty shot. Michelle Crispo scored on a long shot into the upper left corner. Amanda's corner kick resulted in a wild scramble in front of the goal and the ball was pushed in by Sasha Nelken and Anne Marie Paone. Stephanie Banos and Samantha Witman had strong games in midfield and Lauren Martin, Maura Wittbold and Kaitlin O'Connor stood out defensively.

Booster of the Week: Sarah Walker, Jenna Hartwell and Heather Rybicki.

Andover Gladiators 2 North Andover Red Hawks 1

Damian Dolan scored the first goal, with assists by Patrick Curtis and Andy Wood. Due to many saves by Philipp Risseuw and the defense, Jeff Danis, Blake McCauley, Jim Chu and Tyler Volpe, North Andover was held scoreless until the close of the first period. Midway through the second half, Dolan made a pass to Piercarlo Valdesolo for the winning goal. Goalie Phillip Ayoub kept North Andover scoreless in the second half with a tremendous effort from the entire team.

BOW: Justin LeCam, Mike Monteiro and Matt Brooks.

North Andover Red Hawks 1 Andover Gladiators 0

Patrick Curtis, Jeff Danis and Jimmy Chu prevented North Andover's offense from penetrating. Goalie Philipp Risseuw made several key saves. Andover had several shots on the North Andover goalie, but both teams remained scoreless in the first half. North Andover scored early in the second half. Blake McCauley, Jeff Danis and Andy Wood all prevented corner kicks from being goals by the use of headers. Andover stormed the North Andover defense with midfielders Philipp Risseuw, David Maragoglio and Michael Denhartog making key passes to the offense.

BOW: James Butler, Patrick Coleman and Tyler Volpe.

Under 12 Division Andover Strikers 4 - Merrimack 0

The Andover Strikers recorded their third straight victory by beating the Merrimack Fillies 4-0 during a steady light rain. After a scoreless first half, Audra Alexandra scrambled to punch in the Striker's first goal. Lisa Tisbert, starting at midfield, advanced deep into the Merrimack backfield and set up Andover's second score with a cross pass to Tina Baraby who nailed a shot into the corner of the net. Midfielder Shannon Higgins scored the third goal and Sarah Cote added the fourth.

Andover Lightning 2 Hamilton-Wenham 0

Bobby Rawlinson was excellent in goal, saving a goal on a penalty kick.

Booster of the week: Patrick Murnane and Mark Moskal.

Andover Hurricanes 1 Beverly tornadoes 0

Excellent defense by Hasen Erdem, Matt Gilmore and Mark Tomkins combined with solid goaltending by Jeff Sandison and Jeff Cutler led the Hurricanes to their second shutout in a row. Jason Pratt scored the only goal with assists to Dan Piercy and Tony Beliveau.

BOW: Craig Powers, Steve Dietz and Mike Adams.

Andover Lasers 6 - Boxford 0

Aggressive ball control and position play were key as the Andover defense, anchored by Jason Swift, Jonathan Lakow, Chuck Gregory and Naveen Goela limited Boxford to two shots on goal. Goals were netted by Josh Gagnon, Mike Alberico, Mike Kaczynski, Kyle Thompson, Greg Roy and Brendan Pytko (two). Dan Coleman, Paul Davidson, Josh Gagnon, Alan Ginsberg and Justin Pytko assisted.

BOW: Wingers Tom McLaughlin and Justin Games and center Chris Morrissey.

England 3 - Peru 0

Two goals were scored by Peter Gerstberger, one unassisted and one assisted by Matt Smilowitz, and Sam Morrison scored unassisted. Strong defense by Peru's Matt Arcidy, Sean Lawton and Randi Spiegel adding the other. Assists were credited to Missy Famiglietti, Licata and Erin Collins.

Strong midfield play was contributed by Liz Salvia and Kara Burbank, while defenders Kate Aeder and Susan Ashlock anchored the Andover back line.

Andover then faced a very strong and Scott DeCourcy kept the game close for three periods.

BOW: Andy Gilmore and Greg Stamm (England); Phil Bancroft and Jeff Martin (Peru).

Brazil 2 - Australia 0

Excellent goaltending by Australia's Brian Anderson, Mike Mallen and Tim Stitham kept the game a scoreless tie through three periods. Kevin Hess broke the deadlock on a penalty shot and Evan Sideman, assisted by Hess, added an insurance goal.

BOW: Stephen Liu, Aaron McNabb and Arnold Ross (Brazil).

Chili 2 - Argentina 1

Chili won on a penalty kick by Ryan Slavin with one second remaining in the game. Craig Parker, assisted by Scott Mackin, scored Argentina's only goal. Slavin, assisted by Mike Welch, scored Chili's first goal.

BOW: Jeff Olender, Chad Mongeau and Miles Sedgwick (Chili); Greg Rosenheck, Adrian Purdy and Jimmy Noonan (Argentina).

Egypt 1 - Italy 1

Unassisted goals were scored by Kyle McCauley for Egypt and Mike Tonelli for Italy.

BOW: Jon Ofria and Andy Rubin (Egypt); Sean Higgins, Stu Winters and Philips DeLude (Italy).

Canada 2 - Germany 0

Canada controlled play most of the game. Christian Sempere and Tim Witt scored unassisted goals.

BOW: Brian Crowley and Ed Boulanger (Canada); Jake Hall, Mike Beliveau and Billy Carter (Germany).

Reeboks 0 - L.A. Gears 4

L.A. Gears' goals were scored by Kristin Sweeney, assisted by Kelley Walsh; Sarah Lochman, assisted by Monica Everett; Sweeney off Everett; and Walsh, assisted by Angeline Yang. Superb goaltending by Reeboks' Sarah Marden kept L.A. Gears from scoring in the third quarter.

BOW: Erica Tebbetts, Allison James and Melissa Langlais (Reebok); Jennifer Roberge and Judy Huang (L.A. Gears).

Nikes 3 - Mitres 4

Two of Nikes' goals were scored by Leslie Ring, one assisted by Elizabeth Bigelow and the other off the kick off. Cathy Filbin scored the third off Ring. Allison Corey scored for the Mitres off Lindsay Raven's centering pass and Jacque Sawyer was assisted by Morgan Jacobsen for her goal. The Mitres great team work put them on the board again with a shot by Adrienne Ciampa, assisted by Jessie Green. Corey sped past the defense and scored off a throw in by Ravens.

BOW: Zoe Hastings, Siobhan Landry and Lisa Rauseo (Nikes); Kristen Herlihy, Carolyn Brown and Lesley Bobek (Mitres).

Avias 1 - Adidas 1

Strong defensive play by both teams ended the game in a tie score. Catherine Kannam scored from 15 yards out after intercepting a clearout by the defense. Adidas tied the game in the fourth quarter after a flurry of shots finally connected one by Cara Ann Chiaraluce, assisted by Laurie Willey.

BOW: Meghan Doyle, Nikki Haerer and Laura Schrader (Avias); Anna Vining and Lynne Tylus (Adidas).

Under 10 Division

Hawks 3 - Bears 2

Joe Furey opened the scoring with a great corner kick goal for the Hawks. Nick Pisano scored the Hawk's second goal before Nate Stoetzel scored for the Bears on an assist from Dan Cote. Stephen Cavanaugh scored the Hawks' final goal before Dan Cote took a pass from Adam Lundquist and scored for the Bears.

BOW: Joe Furey, Justin Roy and Chris Hanlon (Hawks); Richard Crowley, David McGrath and Michael Shannon.

Leopards 2 - Jaguars 1

Jaguars' goalie Amy Galluzzo successfully defended many shots on goal. Lisa Tylus set up by a great pass from Patricia Delude, scored the Leopards' first goal. Amy Herlihy tied the score 1-1 with an assist by Rachel Koffman. Laura Stone took the ball the length of the field all alone to score the winning Leopards' goal.

BOW: Amy Galluzzo, Kate Hyde and Stephanie Aitade (Jaguars); Jennifer Anness, Katie Whitman and Elizabeth Asch (Leopards).

Lynx 3 - Cougars 0

The Cougars put up an outstanding defensive front in the first half and great goaltending in the second half.

Raccoons 3 - Eagles 1

The game was even all the way through with excellent defensive play by the Raccoons. Excellent passing and a goal by Mike Morrissey were offensive highlights. The Adriance twins, Brent and Clark, were a dual threat.

North Andover's goalie, while Chris Contos and Ashley Nowell sparked the defense.

Andover then played Concord-Carlisle to a 0-0 tie, outshooting the Patriots but unable to dent their goaltender.

Playing a strong game for the locals were forwards Randi Spiegel and Shira Hermosa, midfielder Kara Burbank and defender Chris Contos.

Andover entered this week with a 2-1-1 record.

Freshman soccer posts victories over Bishop Fenwick, Lincoln-Sudbury

The Andover girls' freshman soccer team started its season off with victories over Bishop Fenwick (4-0) and Lincoln-Sudbury (3-1).

In the Fenwick game, goals were tallied by Shannon Lee, Randi Spiegel, Missy Famiglietti and Liz Salvia.

Midfielder Erin Collins and defender Christine Contos helped goalie Beth Lee earn her first shutout.

The freshman team then traveled to Lincoln-Sudbury to earn its second victory. Elaine Licata scoring two goals and Randi Spiegel adding the other. Assists were credited to Missy Famiglietti, Licata and Erin Collins.

Strong midfield play was contributed by Liz Salvia and Kara Burbank, while defenders Kate Aeder and Susan Ashlock anchored the Andover back line.

Andover then faced a very strong and determined North Andover team, dropping a 2-1 decision.

Andover's lone goal came 30 seconds into the game when Randi Spiegel converted a pass from Missy Famiglietti. Randi's goal was her third in as many games.

Boys' varsity soccer team posts win and tie to stay on top

By Rick Harrison

Clutch goals by senior striker Josh Nelkin and junior Quang Nguyen kept the Andover High boys' varsity soccer team on its impressive early-season roll last week, the Golden Warriors edging Haverhill 3-2 and tying Central Catholic 1-1 to remain the top team in the Merrimack Valley Conference Large School Division.

Coach Dave Amundsen's crew entered this week with a 4-0-1 record for nine points, one ahead of defending division champ Lowell and Billerica (both 3-0-2) and four up on Central which is off to an unusual 0-0-5 start.

AHS figured to extend its unbeaten streak Tuesday against winless Wilmington, and will find out within the next five days exactly how good it really is.

A rugged three-game test begins tonight at Lovely Field against Lowell (7 p.m.), and continues Saturday morning (10 a.m.) at undefeated Small School leader Tewksbury (3-0-2). Next Tuesday the Warriors complete the first half of the schedule by hosting Billerica.

Senior midfielder Kevin Nuskay led the balanced team in total points after five games, boasting one goal and three assists, while the top goalscorers with two apiece were Josh Nelkin, Quang Nguyen and Lyle Morgan.

Andover, 3-2

Upset-minded Haverhill (1-3-1) gave Andover a scare, and became the first team to score on the Warriors in the process.

Kevin Nuskay set up first-half goals by Morgan and Nguyen, making it 2-0 before the Hillies broke Andover's shutout streak at just under 300 consecutive minutes with a penalty shot connection.

Haverhill squared it 2-2 in the second half before senior wing Andy Brown set up Josh Nelkin's game-winner with 10 minutes left.

Kevin Nuskay, #24, and Rhett Bachner, #37, work the ball in Haverhill's end of the field. Andover edged Haverhill for a 3-2 win.

Junior goaltender Chris Sintros played the first half and sophomore Dave Charland the second half.

"Haverhill had much more pressure on us the second half and Charland had to make several good saves," said Coach Amundsen.

In addition to Charland, the veteran coach lauded the efforts of senior defender Mike O'Sullivan, senior sweeper Keith Selvitelli, frontliners Brian Croteau and Brown, sophomore defender Eric Pisick and junior midfielder-forward Dave Poulo.

"Kevin Nuskay also did an outstanding job staying on top of things and offering support all over the field," said

Coach Amundsen.

Andover-Central, 1-1

Central Catholic, which was battling to its record-setting fifth straight season-opening tie, grabbed a 1-0 lead when Steve D'Agata headed a Dan Bowen pass over AHS netminder Chris Sintros with seven seconds left in the first half.

Quang Nguyen's second goal in two games tied it 10 minutes into the final half, assists going to Josh Nelkin and Lyle Morgan.

"It was sharp passing from the defense to forward line," said Coach Amundsen. "A combination play that ended with a touch pass from Morgan to Quang."

Nguyen then blasted an eight-yard shot behind CCHS goalie Brendon DuVal.

Sintros and Dave Charland were required to make just three saves between them, while DuVal was credited with seven stops.

"We played an excellent second half defensively," explained Coach Amundsen. "Central is fast and they tried to overpower us. We passed the ball well and were more determined and aggressive in the second half."

Senior defender John Desmond, who missed several earlier games because of mononucleosis, returned to the lineup and contributed a solid performance.

Also drawing praise from Coach Amundsen were senior midfielder-defender Rhett Bachner, senior defender Eric Fox, Rob Weisman and midfielders John Martin and Kevin Nuskay.

Andover frosh

The Andover freshmen outgunned North Andover, 6-3, as Eric Dubasak netted three goals and singletons were added by Joe Hogarty, Brian Kwon and Sean Rodriguez. Dubasak passed out one assist and Rodriguez a pair, while defensive standouts were Ryan Hadley and Pat Hess.

Vanessa Blank sparks late rally for girls' soccer team

By Rick Harrison

Freshman midfielder Vanessa Blank sparked a late second-half rally, setting up two goals and scoring what became the tying marker in the final 17 minutes as the Andover High girls' varsity soccer team battled Catholic Central League power Bishop Fenwick of Peabody to a 4-4 non-league tie last week.

The deadlock left Coach Dick Loschi's squad at 2-1-1 overall, including 2-1-0 in the Merrimack Valley Conference where the Lady Warriors began the week in fourth place behind defending champ Billerica (4-0-0), Wilmington (3-1-0) and Lowell (2-1-1).

That was all scheduled to change earlier this week, however, when AHS returned to league play with road games at Lowell and Wilmington.

Andover next hosts non-league power Wellesley Saturday night at Lovely Field (7 p.m.).

"Vanessa Blank was definitely the catalyst against Fenwick," noted Coach Loschi. "Something just clicked when she went in midway through the second half with Fenwick ahead 3-1. Two minutes later the comeback began. It was some kind of effort for a freshman."

Team scoring leader Blank (3-3-6) set up senior forward Becky Levine's first goal of the season at 23:25, making it 3-2, and exactly two minutes later (25:25) she fed senior forward Maureen Wade for her team-high fourth of the year to tie it 3-3.

Blank put Andover ahead for the first time at 33:30, converting a set-up pass from senior midfielder Tay Hollander.

Fenwick, which remained undefeated at 3-0-1, tied it with 3:20 left and almost won it less than a minute later.

"Colleen Murnane saved the game," said Coach Loschi. "Kim Kelley came out of the net to make a save, and before she could scramble back a Fenwick player shot the rebound towards the open goal. But Murnane got there in time and kicked the ball away.

Fenwick had taken a 2-0 lead late in the first half, before senior Tri-Captain Lindsey Sweeney deposited her second goal of the season at the 33-minute mark. Tri-Captain Hilary Recesso assisted on the first Warrior tally.

"Becky Levine was immense at forward," noted Coach Loschi. "She was all over the field. It was a real shootout. A crowd pleaser."

Kelley finished with seven saves in the Andover net as the locals outshot Fenwick 13-11.

Coach Loschi also cited the play of freshman defender Sue Cookson and senior defender Alyssa Sonntag.

Blank led the team in overall scoring after four games with three goals and three assists for six points, while Maureen Wade had four goals, Jenn Munroe two goals, two assists and Lindsey Sweeney two goals, two assists.

IN THE ARMED FORCES

John P. Emmert of Andover has enlisted in the Army Reserve under the provisions of the Delayed Entry Program.

The graduate of Greater Lawrence Technical School is the son of Susan Shorten of Andover and John Emmert.

Mr. Emmert will report Nov. 13 to Fort Benning, Ga., for completion of the Army's eight-week basic training course. Upon completion of basic, he will complete the Army's advanced specialized training course in the selected career field of Infantryman.

Through the GI Bill, Mr. Emmert is eligible for $5,040 toward a college or vocational education.

SFC Gerald Stafford, Army recruiter in Lawrence, assisted Mr. Emmert with this enlistment in the U.S. Army Reserve. Call SFC Stafford for more information on career opportunities in the Army at 686-7036.

Marine 2nd Lt. John W. Klopacz, a 1986 graduate of Andover High School, recently graduated from The Basic School.

During the course at Marine Corps Combat Development Command, Quantico, Va., newly-commissioned officers are prepared for assignment to the Fleet Marine force.

The course includes instruction on and navigation, marksmanship, tactics, military law, personnel administration, Marine Corps history and traditions, communications and the techniques of military instruction.

Officer candidates are also taught leadership by example and the importance of teamwork and participate in a demanding physical conditioning program.

He is a 1990 graduate of Marquette University in Milwaukee, Wisc., with a bachelor of arts degree. He joined the Marine Corps in December 1991.

Registrations still being accepted for golf tourney that benefits scholarships

Registrations are still being accepted for Northern Essex Community College's first Scholarship Golf Tournament on Friday, Oct. 16 (raindate: Monday, Oct. 19) at Far Corners Golf Course in West Boxford.

A Buick Park Avenue will be offered by Best Buick Saab GMC Truck to any golfer that scores a hole-in-one on a designated hole.

The tournament will begin at 8 a.m. with a shotgun start and will be followed by a chicken barbecue. Prizes will be awarded in several categories.

The entry fee, including greens fee, golf cart, gift, prizes and barbecue, is $75 per person. Holes may be sponsored for $75.

Non-golfers are invited to attend the luncheon and participate in a noon putting tournament for $15 per person.

Proceeds will benefit the Northern Essex Community College Alumni Association and Foundation Scholarship Funds. For a flyer with details or more information call the college's alumni office.

Free course teaches kids gun safety

A one- to two-hour safety seminar for children ages 5 to 14 will be held at Andover Sportsmen's Club headquarters Sunday, Oct. 18, at 10 a.m.

This class is free.

This is not a National Rifle Association course, but a simple safety class to help teach children what to do if they should come across a situation involving a firearm.

To register, call Peter C. Patalano, chief instructor, at (617) 776-5059

Parking fines back to $10

By Don Staruk

Parking fines downtown went from $8 to $10 on Sept. 1, and Central Business District Committee members Tuesday night discussed asking the Board of Selectmen to set them back to $8 permanently.

The Board of Selectmen temporarily dropped the fine for certain parking violations, meter and overtime violations, from $10 to $8, on July 1, at the request of the CBDC. Committee members hoped the reduction would help merchants send a message to shoppers that the town wanted their business during the slow summer months.

Committee members will continue to monitor the effect of the higher fines on business and parking in the downtown during the next few weeks and hope to decide on whether to make a recommendation to selectmen by the end of October.

The group will also continue a discussion at its next meeting on a proposal to offer permit parking in the downtown. Permit parking could allow employees in the downtown to purchase a parking sticker for a certain area at a reduced rate from what a meter would cost. The intent would be to keep employees' cars out of the most easily accessible spaces so those spaces would be available for shoppers.

The next meeting of the CBDC will be in late October, but no date has yet been set.

Andover Theater Company plans fall and spring shows

After a successful summer production of Oklahoma, which was a do-or-die venture for the Andover Theater Company, the group raised enough money to plan on a fall/winter and spring show this year. The company hasn't yet decided what shows it will perform.

Last year the ATC lost nearly $6,000 on its production of The Man of La Mancha. The ATC then cancelled planned programs for the spring.

"That just about wiped us out," said Marcelle Gregg, a board member.

Ms. Gregg said the summer Oklahoma production made about $800 and will enable the group to start planning holiday and spring productions.

Sgt. Milam finishes course

Staff Sgt. Patricia A. Milam has completed a nine-week drill sergeant course at Fort Jackson, S.C.

The course is designed to provide students with the information and training techniques drill sergeants will be required to teach initial entry trainees. Included in the curriculum are drill and ceremonies, physical fitness, weapons training and instruction on leadership and counseling applicable to the initial entry trainee environment.

The sergeant is the daughter of Clarence F. and J. Patricia McDonald of 48 Summer St.

She is a 1977 graduate of Andover High School and a 1990 graduate of the University of Maryland through the military extension in Germany.

Pvt. Joel Dodge completes Marine recruit training

Marine Pvt. Joel D. Dodge, son of Lorna J. Dodge of 43 North St., recently completed recruit training.

During the training cycle at Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S.C., recruits are taught the basics of battlefield survival, introduced to typical military daily routine, and personal and professional standards.

All recruits participate in an active physical conditioning program and gain proficiency in a variety of military skills, including first aid, rifle marksmanship and close-order drill. Teamwork and self-discipline are emphasized throughout the cycle.

He is a 1991 graduate of Andover High School.

Tips 'N Toes

Tips 'N Toes is pleased to announce that they are celebrating their one-year anniversary. There will be an open house at the shop on Friday, Oct. 2, and Saturday, Oct. 3. Customers, both new and regular, are welcome to join Michelle and her staff for some food and beverages and a special gift. Also offered will be a raffle featuring a day of beauty at Tips 'N Toes. Come in and enjoy the warmth of the shop with its wonderful Victorian decor and bring any questions you may have concerning their services or nail, hand or foot care to the friendly staff.

The staff at Tips 'N Toes offers all the latest techniques in nail and hand and foot care. Owner Michelle has been in this business for four years and Debra and Dana are both experienced nail technicians. Tips 'N Toes can do paraffin manicures, acrylic nails, silk nails, nail repairs, polish changes and pedicures with either a mud mask or a paraffin treatment.

Tips 'N Toes carries Aveda all natural cosmetics and skin care products. Consumer clinics for Aveda products are run monthly at the shop. The next clinic will be offered on Oct. 8 at 6:30 p.m. Feel free to call for details. The clinics cover use of the complete line of Aveda products from skin care to proper use of the makeup.

Tips 'N Toes can also accommodate businessmen with early morning manicures by appointment.

Need a new idea for a bridal shower or birthday party? Consider a Tips 'N Toes pedicure party. With five or more guests, the hostess gets her pedicure for free. The parties can be held at the shop or in your home for more comfort. What a perfect idea for the pampering of a mother to be. Birthday parties for girls are another service offered by Tips 'N Toes. The girls get a manicure, learn about nail care and the shop will supply the cake and juice. Another great party idea.

Tips 'N Toes is located at 63 Park St., Park Street Village in Andover. Hours are T-Th 9-8, F 9-5, Sat. 9-3. Telephone: (508) 470-2525.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue and in execution of the Power of Sale contained in a certain Mortgage given by VINCENT P. DAVEY and HELEN R. DAVEY to ANDOVER SAVINGS BANK now known as ANDOVER BANK, a corporation duly established under the Laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts having its usual place of business at 61 Main Street, Andover, Essex County, in said Commonwealth, dated November 1 1989 and duly recorded with the North Essex Registry of Deeds at Book 3024, Page 45, of which the undersigned ANDOVER BANK formerly known as ANDOVER SAVINGS BANK, is the present holder, for a breach of conditions contained in said Mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing, the same will be sold at public auction at 2:00 p.m. on the 29th day of October, 1992 on the mortgaged premises known as 23 Enmore Street, Andover, Massachusetts, being all and singular the premises described in said Mortgage to wit:

The land with all the buildings thereon situated in that part of said Andover known as Shawshen Village, and being shown as lot numbered twenty on plan entitled: "Plan B" showing property owned by Textile Realty Company, Shawshen Village, Andover, Mass., June, 1932, John Franklin, C.E." recorded in the North District of Essex Registry of Deeds as plan No. 877, bounded and described as follows:

SOUTHWESTERLY by Enmore Street seventy feet; NORTHWESTERLY by lot No. 21 as shown on said plan, eighty feet;

NORTHEASTERLY by lot E as shown on said plan seventy feet; and SOUTHEASTERLY by lot No. 19 as shown on said plan eighty feet.

For source of the Mortgagor's title see Book 821, Page 208. Subject to a first mortgage to Andover Savings Bank now known as Andover Bank dated March 17, 1976 and recorded at North Essex Registry of Deeds at Book 1277, Page 761.

Said premises will be sold subject to and/or with the benefit of any and all restrictions, easements, improvements, covenants, outstanding tax titles, municipal or other public taxes, assessments, liens or claims in the nature of liens, any existing encumbrances of record dated prior to the mortgage, if any there be.

Said premises will also be sold subject to all leases and tenancies having priority over said mortgage, to tenancies or occupation by persons on the premises now and at the time of said auction which tenancies or occupation are subject to said mortgage, to rights or claims in personal property installed by tenants or former tenants now located on the premises, and also to all laws and ordinances including, but not limited to, all building and zoning laws and ordinances.

TERMS OF SALE:

Said real estate will be sold to the highest bidder who will be required to deposit Five Thousand and No/100 ($5,000.00) Dollars by cash, certified check or bank cashier's check at the time and place of sale and the balance shall be paid by cash, certified check or bank cashier's check at the Office of Sweeney & Sargent, 32 Chestnut Street, Andover, Massachusetts within thirty (30) days from the date of sale. The deed shall be delivered upon the receipt of the balance of the funds. The successful bidder at the sale shall be required to sign a Memorandum of Terms of Sale containing the above terms at the Auction sale.

In the event that the successful bidder at the foreclosure sale defaults in purchasing the within described property, according to the terms of this notice of sale and/or terms of the memorandum of sale executed at the time of foreclosure auction, the mortgagee reserves the right to sell the property by foreclosure deed to the second highest bidder, providing that said second highest bidder shall deposit with the Mortgagee, the amount of the required deposit as set forth herein, within three (3) business days after written notice of default of the previous highest bidder, title shall be conveyed to said second highest bidder within thirty (30) days.

The Mortgagee reserves the right to postpone the sale to a later date by public proclamation at the time and date appointed for the sale and to further postpone an adjourned sale date by public proclamation at the time and date appointed for the adjourned sale date.

Other terms to be announced at the time and place of the sale.

New China Chef Restaurant

The New China Chef Restaurant on South Broadway in Lawrence is proud to announce that it is under the management of the original owners. After a three-year absence, owners Susan Wang and John Lee have returned. The restaurant is ably managed by Jim Chou and John Chou. For their many loyal and satisfied customers, this is great news.

The New China Chef offers a wide range of dishes, mostly in the Szechuan and Hunanese style, with many of the recipes from the original chef. The restaurant continues the tradition of using only the finest quality ingredients in their food. The house specialties include Sizzling Seafood Platter, Sizzling Subgum Platter, Orange Chicken and Sesame Chicken. Whether your tastes run to the spicy or, if you prefer, milder flavor, the menu at the New China Chef offers many tempting taste treats.

Along with the tradition of finest quality food at reasonable prices, the New China Chef prides itself on the quality service they provide. Customers come back again and again, not just for the great food, but for the cheerful and pleasant atmosphere in the restaurant. Full alcoholic beverage service is available at the New China Chef and reservations for large parties are requested. Menu selections are available for takeout.

The New China Chef Restaurant is conveniently located close to the Andover/Lawrence line at 129 South Broadway in Lawrence. The hours are M-Thu 11:30-10; Fri. & Sat. 11:30-11; Sun. 3:30-10. Telephone: (508) 794-0916.

Being the same premises described in Transfer Memorandum of Unit Ownership #U-184 recorded in Book U2, Page 184.

Said premises will be sold subject to and/or with the benefit of any and all restrictions, easements, improvements, covenants, outstanding tax titles, municipal or other public taxes, assessments, liens, condominium fees or claims in the nature of liens, and existing encumbrances of record created prior to the mortgage, if any there be.

Said premises will also be sold subject to all leases and tenancies having priority over said mortgage, to tenancies or occupation by persons on the premises now and at the time of said Auction which tenancies or occupations are subject to said mortgage, to rights or claims in personal property installed by tenants or former tenants now located on the premises, and also to all laws and ordinances including, but not limited to, all building and zoning laws and ordinances.

SAID PREMISES WILL BE OFFERED FOR SALE ON OCTOBER 19, 1992 AT 11:00 A.M. ON THE PREMISES HAVING A PROPERTY ADDRESS OF UNIT 1, 12 LONGWOOD DRIVE, ANDOVER GARDENS CONDOMINIUM, ANDOVER, MASSACHUSETTS

TERMS OF SALE

The highest bidder shall be required to deposit cash, bank treasurer's check, or certified check in the amount of FIVE THOUSAND ($5,000.00) DOLLARS at the time and place of said sale.

The balance of the purchase price on the sale of the premises shall be paid in cash, or by bank treasurer's check, or certified check in or within thirty (30) days thereafter. The deed for the premises sold shall be transferred upon the timely payment to Andover Bank of the balance of the purchase price. The successful bidder at the sale shall be required to sign a Memorandum of Terms of Sale, containing the above terms at the Auction Sale.

In the event that the successful bidder at the foreclosure sale defaults in purchasing the within described property, according to the terms of this Notice of Sale, and/or terms of the Memorandum of Sale executed at the time of foreclosure auction, the Mortgagee reserves the right to sell the property by foreclosure deed to the second highest bidder, providing that said second highest bidder, shall deposit with the mortgagee, the amount of the required deposit as set forth herein, within three business days after written notice of the default of the previous highest bidder and title shall be conveyed to said second highest bidder within twenty-one (21) days.

The mortgagee reserves the right to postpone the sale to a later date by public proclamation at the time and date appointed for the sale and to further postpone to an adjourned sale date by public proclamation at the time and date appointed for the adjourned sale date.

Other terms to be announced at the time and place of the sale.

Recycle

DO YOU HAVE an item or items that you no longer need, but that would be useful to someone else, something you'd be willing to give away if someone would come get it? For instance: boxes, storm windows, a child's bicycle, cardboard boxes, an old set of dishes. You can list your recyclable items in the Townsman's newest classified section: "RECYCLE" (FREE of charge!) It's a way to clean up your place while acknowledging the world is running out of landfill space. Simply write us listing your recyclables and we'll print them in the paper. No phone calls please.

We Guarantee You The Lower Rate

When refinancing or buying a home,
Andover Bank's Rate Lock/Re-Lock Option lets you lock in a rate at application for as long as 60 days with no points paid at the time of application. If rates decrease, you can take advantage of the lower rate (one time only) up to five business days prior to closing.
Best of all, if rates should increase, Andover Bank guarantees the rate won't go above the rate offered when you applied.

So don't delay your application process simply because you think rates may go down. Apply now and our Rate Lock/Re-Lock option will provide you with the guarantee of a lower rate.

Impressions of Ukraine . . .

Massachusetts General Hospital, spent the first two weeks of August touring the Ukraine, part of the former Soviet Union. She was with 36 other members of a health care and cultural exchange program sponsored by the Massachusetts/Ukraine Citizens Bridge, a private non-profit organization that promotes cultural understanding through personal contact.

The Ukraine is in the western most part of the former Soviet Union, bordering Poland and Czechoslovakia. Ms. Hardin flew into Kiev, the capital, on an Aeroflot jet. The former Soviet Union's national airline had very few non-smoking seats, dirty upholstery and bathrooms that are "some of the worst in the world."

Surprisingly, the food "wasn't bad," for a country that is struggling just to feed its 52 million people and where inflation is incredibly high, she said.

Kiev has a population of 2.5 million people. It is the third oldest city in Ukraine, but "it's a city that has just suffered, a country that has just suffered, and you wonder what brings these people back again and again," she said.

The Americans had two- to three-hour visits in the homes of several Ukraine families. "When you came into their home, even though they have very little, they want to share everything with you," Ms. Hardin said.

"Every bit of the yard is planted with gardens, both vegetables and flowers."

"Meat is very very scarce," Ms. Hardin said, so you have sausage or Julie Hardin holds a book given to her by a person she met on her trip to Ukraine.

chicken. "But beef is very expensive."

In outlying towns, the food lines at stores are longer than in the cities. "The lines for bread were quite long," Ms. Hardin said. On the other hand, vodka and beer, "pevo," are plentiful.

The medical needs in the Ukraine are great, and even old or outdated equipment here is highly valued there.

This is the first time since 500 AD, except for a 200-year period about 1,000 to 1,200, that the Ukraine has really been independent, according to Ms. Hardin. "I think there's a tremendous amount of uncertainty and fear," she said. "They struggle with the concept of independence."

"They know what they are losing, and are happy with much of that, but they don't know what they are getting. And they're scared with that."

"Home" for the Americans was a cruise ship named the Marshall Koshevoy, which traveled on the Dnieper River stopping at Kanev, Zaporozhny, Odessa, Yevpatoriya and Yalta in the Crimea. The young men working on the ship were practicing capitalism, selling wrist watches and other items, only for U.S. currency.

Ms. Hardin visited a psychiatrist at his home in a drab apartment building with an unkempt porch, elevator and mailbox area. "But when we finally got into his apartment, everything was neat, it was tidy," she said.

She mentioned the difference. "We have a saying here that if it belongs to everyone, it belongs to the devil," the man said.

Religion was suppressed under Communism, so one day when she heard a Mass being said, Ms. Harding followed the voices around a corner and saw a small church, still boarded up. Beside it was a priest performing a Catholic ceremony at a makeshift altar.

Ukraine is a very varied country, partly because it has been dominated by so many different cultures.

The low point of the trip was leaving their interpreters, employees of the Ukraine Peace Council. "While the Americans were going back to a comfortable world, some of these people didn't know if they would have jobs and didn't know what each day would bring," Ms. Hardin said.

Here were the Ukrainians, who had so little, yet were so generous. Compare that to ourselves, who have so much, she said.

"I think we were all struck, I think we wondered if we are as generous with ourselves as they were. It was very humbling," she said.

Poplar trees are everywhere in the Ukraine and, as legend has it, the tree is really a metaphor of the Ukraine people. When times are good, the trees stand independent and rise high. When storms come, they bend, fold and fall down. But when the sun comes back up, they rise again and stand tall.

"I thought that was just lovely," Ms. Hardin said.

Ms. Hardin is frustrated to come home and open the Sunday papers and find the same old travel sections. "There's another whole world out there that we'd be interested in."

She went to Ukraine with $500 in spending money and returned with $200 after two weeks. One night 10 of her group went to dinner and had meat, potato, vegetables, bread, cognac, wine and more, all for $20.

What wasn't good were the plumbing facilities. "American Standard could make a fortune in Ukraine."

The only way to use the bathrooms was to stick perfumed tissue in your nose before you entered one. She tried to use a public bathroom and got as far as the door but couldn't do it. Luckily, they were staying on the cruise ship and just got in the habit of using the facilities before they left the boat.

Ukraine is a third world country and Americans have to be cautious about diseases such as hepatitis. "You cannot drink the water. You must drink bottled water," she said.

"Intourist" is the country's agency for arranging tours. You can travel on your own, but, "I think it would be best to go with a tour," she said. "I think to go out on your own, you'd miss a lot."

Institute offers healthy choices for eating out

If you're the average American, 40 cents of every dollar you spend on food is spent eating out.

Fast food, take out, the local diner, that special, fancy restaurant — more of us are eating out more often. In fact, studies now show that 30 percent of our calories are eaten away from home.

And, according to the American Institute for Cancer Research, most of us should be paying more attention to our food choices when eating out. Our meals away from home can have a significant impact on the nutritional balance of our diets and on our overall health.

The most important advice the institute offers is to take charge when eating out. Too often, we simply glance at the menu and order the first thing that strikes our fancy.

But most restaurants offer many choices, not only in the foods they serve, but in how they're prepared. Asking for meats to be broiled or grilled instead of fried, for example, can help reduce fat and calories in your meal. So can requesting sauces or salad dressing on the side, or asking for reduced-fat versions.

Many restaurants have begun to respond to diners' requests by offering special diet, heart-healthy or vegetarian dishes on their menus. But the booklet advises reading such listings carefully and asking questions.

The most important advice the institute offers is to take charge when eating out. Too often, we simply glance at the menu and order the first thing that strikes our fancy.

A "dieter's special" that features a fatty hamburger and a big scoop of whole-milk cottage cheese does little to save you calories or grams of fat. Nor does a chef's salad, featuring fatty meats, cheeses and eggs, all swimming in a high-fat dressing.

In addition to offering suggestions about how to order, and what questions to ask for more nutritious meals out, the institute provides a reference guide to restaurant meals that covers various meals and types of restaurants, with suggestions on the healthiest choices commonly available.

For more information, write to the American Institute for Cancer Research, Dept CD, Washington, D.C. 20069.

Roses, ribbons and lace create a romantic setting for this elegant chicken dish, made with a healthy assortment of fresh, flavorful vegetables.

The 99 Seal of Approval Your Guarantee of Quality Food

When it comes to quality food, we're tough to please. Just ask the cooks at any Ninety Nine Restaurant. Every step of the way—from the market to the table—we check to make sure each chicken is the tenderest...each fish is the freshest...each USDA Choice steak is the tastiest. Only the finest quality food rates the Ninety Nine Seal of Approval—because we won't let anything but the best be served to you at The Ninety Nine.

Learning to eat for weight control, good health

So you want to lose some weight? Who doesn't? Well, the good news is it can be done without starvation, without fad diets and while maintaining good nutrition.

According to a free booklet, Get Fit, Trim Down, from the American Institute for Cancer Research, following a few simple suggestions can help you lose weight safely and easily.

Surveys show that almost half of America is dieting at any one moment. The sad part is that those surveys also show that most of us will regain 60 to 90 percent of the weight lost. According to the experts, the reason is most people don't learn new eating habits, which means once the diet ends, the old habits, and the lost weight, both return.

The first suggestion is not to expect too much too quickly. Crash diets are unhealthy and sometimes dangerous. They actually can make weight loss more difficult. They cause your body's metabolism to slow down, and usually leave you unsatisfied and hungry, and thus more likely to sneak snacks, or to give up your weight loss program totally.

The Get Fit, Trim Down booklet advocates slow and reliable weight loss through a combination of well-balanced, healthy meals, and a program of moderate exercise. Rather than a fad diet or special diet foods, it suggests following dietary guidelines that emphasize nutritious meals that limit high-fat foods, and emphasize fruits, vegetables and whole grains.

By cutting back on fatty foods, you automatically cut back on calories. Each gram of protein or complex carbohydrate has only about half the calories of a gram of fat. An added bonus is that vegetables and whole grains provide more bulk, thus letting you feel full and satisfied after a meal, even though you may be eating slightly less.

Get Fit, Trim Down also strongly suggests a program of moderate exercise. Exercise increases your body's energy needs, burning off more calories and also keeps you from losing muscle or lean tissue. It forces your body to burn off more of its stored fat.

A free copy of Get Fit, Trim Down, which also provides menu ideas and other advice related to weight loss and nutrition, is available by sending a stamped (52 cents postage) self-addressed, business-size envelope to the American Institute for Cancer Research, Dept. TD, Washington, D.C. 20069.

A diet rich in whole grains, like those pictured here, helps you to lose weight without starving or fad diets.

Consider dining out when trying to bring a busy family together

It's a fact: Children do like to eat out. According to a study by the Roper Organization for USA Weekend, 55 percent of families surveyed said their children influence the family's choice when the dinner destination is a full-service restaurant.

The National Restaurant Association says restaurant visits by children under age 6 jumped 36 percent during a recent seven-year period.

As the lifestyle of the typical American family becomes busier, mealtime is often the only time during the day when the family is together.

In the past, parents left the kids with a babysitter so they could enjoy a relaxing dinner out, but times have changed. It's become increasingly important for families of the '90s to spend quality time together, and more than ever, children are joining their parents at restaurants.

According to a spokeswoman for the Ground Round Inc., headquartered near Boston, the national restaurant chain estimates it serves more than 10 million families each year, including 5,000,000 meals to children.

She says a family visit to a restaurant should be a pleasant and fun dining experience for everybody. Choose a restaurant where both children and families are made to feel welcome.

As an example, family restaurants should offer something to entertain children without disturbing other diners and, at the same time, allow parents to enjoy a good meal in a relaxed atmosphere.

While the restaurant industry is catching up to the needs of the family, parents can make the difference between the family dining-out experience being a pleasant one or a tension-filled nightmare.

The following "ground rules" should be observed when taking children out to a restaurant:

- The easiest child to take to a restaurant is an infant; they don't move about.

- Special accommodations need to be made for toddlers, who are naturally fidgety and have short attention spans.

- Bring a toy, coloring book and crayons from home to keep the child amused, in case the restaurant does not provide them.

- Parents with an infant should bring bibs and extra bottles of formula.

- A child's manners and eating habits are important when dining out, but be consistent.

Overreacting to a child's bad behavior at a restaurant is confusing, even unfair, when the same behavior is acceptable at home. Encourage good manners and eating habits in general, but dining out is an excellent time to reinforce them.

Remind the child to say "please" and "thank you" when being served.

- If a child has an accident, such as spilling milk, don't make a big thing of it. In a calm voice, say, "It was just an accident. Let's clean it up together."

- Tantrums are another story. A child has a tantrum to achieve a goal. It's best to take the child away from other diners. After he calms down, ask the child why he is upset. Once the reason for the tantrum is known, parents can better cope with the situation.

Sometimes children are just plain tired or not feeling well and need to go home.

- Keep in mind that children are a part of the dinner party and, as such, should be included in the conversation. It's a good time to talk with kids about school, sports and new friends they've made. And be a good listener.

Rethinking the sandwich

America's favorite portable meal has the advantage of being fast and satisfying but is often loaded with calories, sodium and fat.

The "grab-a-sandwich" tradition may be bad news if you're on a diet of any kind - unless you take a fresh approach.

We can learn a lot from people of other cultures, most of whom have their own variations on the universally popular theme.

The Chinese roll up lean meats and vegetables in lettuce or cabbage leaves.

Greeks stuff ingredients into healthful pita shells, and Mexicans use corn-based tortillas.

Norwegians layer thinly sliced fish or beef, onions or radishes and cheese on high fiber, cholesterol-free crisp-breads. The cheese is usually made using part-skim milk - like classic Jarlsberg. There is even a very low-fat, -calorie, -sodium Jarlsberg Lite, in a convenient, rindless loaf form.

Since Americans love cheese and hate to eliminate it from their lunches or snacks, mellow, nutty Jarlsberg is a boon.

New Lite has a deceptively creamy consistency, melts beautifully on toasted or grilled sandwiches - and it doesn't taste a bit like "diet" cheese.

Backstreet, Cactus Jack's offer treats for all tastes

Whether your culinary tastes include exquisitely prepared continental or American cuisine, exciting lighter fare (including numerous, inexpensive hot and cold entrees, deli combination sandwiches and delicious pasta choices) or the best Mexican/southwestern cuisine north of the Rio Grande, Backstreet and Cactus Jack's will satisfy those tastes.

For the second consecutive year, Backstreet was named a winner of the Best of the Best Five Star Diamond Award, the Academy Awards of the restaurant industry, signifying Backstreet as one of the top 50 continental cuisine restaurants in the United States.

According to John L. Thomas, chairman of the board of the Best of the Best Fine Dining Awards, recipients are selected by a panel of more than 200 experts, each of which is a renowned chef, owner of a famous restaurant, food critic or media restaurant reviewer following an unannounced visit to the restaurant.

The Backstreet dinner menu includes an extensive selection of beef, seafood, veal and poultry entries in addition to exciting daily specials prepared by chefs Michael Kotce and Patricia Horan.

For those who desire lighter dining, Backstreet's lunch and evening cafe menu offer a wide selection of choices, most of which are priced under $7 for a complete meal.

In addition, Sunday through Thursday evenings, one child's meal (under 12) from the children's menu is complimentary with each adult meal ordered.

For the best in listening and dancing music, Backstreet's Showtime lounge features the area's hottest bands performing on Friday and Saturday evenings.

In addition, within the next two weeks, Backstreet will install a satellite dish for television reception and new large-screen televisions in its lounge to provide its customers major sporting events and entertainment programming from all over the world.

For authentic Mexican and southwestern cuisine, Cactus Jack's offers the area's most extensive, highest quality menu offerings at low prices in a fun setting.

Complete entree selections begin at $4.25 and include such Mexican choices as enchiladas, fajitas, tacos, chimichangas, burritos and quesadillas as well as Cactus Jack's own homemade chili.

A wide selection of southwestern choices is also offered, including hickory smoked baby back ribs, grilled hickory smoked sirloin steaks, barbecue chicken and grilled seafood.

In addition, chefs Lee Forcino, Antonio Geurrero and Carlos Chaveco prepare exciting special entrees daily.

All Cactus Jack's menu offerings are homemade daily, using only the finest ingredients and no cholesterol, no salt vegetable oil and no MSG.

Beginning Sept. 30, Cactus Jack's customers began enjoying the music of classical guitarist John Tavano, who

Chef Antonio Guerrero, right, and his wife, Mary, center, oversee preparation of a buffet at a party held recently at Cactus Jack's by a local business. The extensive fare included numerous traditional Mexican entrees and an authentic taco station.

Make smarter snacking part of healthier eating

Who doesn't like to snack? Not too many of us. Statistics show we spend over $8 billion a year on potato chips, candy bars, pretzels and other snacks, and that doesn't even count popcorn or nuts.

Snacking can actually be a good idea, but according to a recent booklet, Sneak Health Into Your Snacks, what makes it good are some planning and smart choices on your part.

One advantage of snacking is that it provides nutrition and energy when you need it. A late-morning or mid-afternoon snack can help keep energy levels up and prevent ravenous eating when mealtime finally arrives.

Some recent, preliminary studies even show a series of "mini-meals" throughout the day may be better for you than three regular meals.

But according to this booklet, snacking can also have a negative side. The problems come from how much you snack, the kinds of snack foods you choose and letting nutritionally incomplete snacks substitute for well-balanced, regular meals.

The key, according to this booklet, is to plan for snacks as part of your overall nutrition. If you know you want a morning of afternoon snack, include that as part of your overall planning for calories, fat and overall good nutrition.

The booklet also advises making smarter choices in the snack foods you choose. A small, one ounce serving of potato chips may seem like an innocent snack but it adds as much as 170 calories to your diet and up to 12 grams of fat. Choosing a one ounce serving of pretzels would equal only 110 calories and 1 gram of fat.

Similar choices about cookies, granola bars, frozen treats and beverages can also provide savings in calories and fat, as well as more balanced overall nutrition.

Many snack foods make nutrition a confusing issue by including claims about positive things, while hiding nutritional drawbacks.

Potato chips labeled "no cholesterol," for example, may still be high in fat, since vegetable products never contain cholesterol, no matter how much fat they have. "Healthy" snacks, such as granola bars, and carob- or yogurt-coated nuts, are also usually very high in fat.

Sneak Health Into Your Snacks is available by sending a stamped (52 cents postage), self-addressed envelope to the American Institute for Cancer Research, Dept. HS, Washington, D.C. 20069

True or false? Getting the facts straight on fat substitutes

The number one nutritional concern of the '90s continues to be fat, as consumers worry about how much they consume and how it affects their health.

The surgeon general has branded dietary fat as the most problematic nutrient.

However, with the burgeoning development of fat substitutes, people can now decrease intake of unwanted fat without sacrificing great taste.

Test your knowledge of fat substitutes. True or false?

1. All fat substitutes are the same.

False. All fat substitutes are not created equal.

Substitutes made from carbohydrates include modified food starches, dextrins, polydextrose and gums. They typically replace fat in frozen desserts, salad dressings, margarine, baked goods, processed meats, frostings, dips and soups. Since these substitutes don't withstand very high temperatures, they generally can't be used to fry foods.

Almost all protein-based fat substitutes are made from milk or egg white protein.

Simplese all-natural fat substitute is one example of a protein-based, all-natural fat substitute used in actual food products such as frozen dairy desserts, cheese, pizza, lasagna, pie crusts and cheesecake.

Other applications include alternatives to products like mayonnaise, sour cream, dips, butter, margarine, yogurt, salad dressings, baked goods and puddings.

Fat-based fat substitutes are typically made from chains of fatty acids and sucrose, which cannot be broken down by the human digestive tract. They could be used to fry, cook or bake, but none have been approved by the Food and Drug Administration (FDA).

2. Fat substitutes can lower calories and cholesterol as well as fat content of food.

True. When fat is reduced in foods, calories and cholesterol are also reduced.

3. Fat substitutes do nothing to help people improve their overall diets.

False. A lower dietary fat intake, coupled with an increase in fresh fruits, vegetables and whole grains, will help people meet the nutrition recommendations of leading health organizations.

Products made with fat substitutes can be used to enhance the flavor or add new flavor to these "good-for-you" foods and make it easier for people to incorporate fruits, vegetables and whole grain foods into the diet.

For example, top broccoli with a reduced-fat cheese sauce.

Caterers make change to unique cafe, carry-out restaurant

Located in an unlikely setting for a cafe and take-out food shop, The Best of Thymes features delicious continental breakfasts, lunches and entrees.

"People ask us when we're going to move to a storefront location," say owners Marsha Cohen and Janice Fontanella. "But we really like where we are and have made efficient use of the space."

"Almost everyone in town shops at Shawsheen Plaza and parking is always available. You just have to look down the alley next to Bay State Eye, and there we are."

The take-out shop and cafe has been open for over a year now, with tables and chairs added last winter so people can take advantage of the friendly atmosphere at The Best of Thymes. A visit to the shop shows that the owners and staff have a lot of fun working together and getting to know their customers.

"We are an outgoing group and love to see the same people come back again and again. It's one of the reasons we opened the shop in the first place."

"We were a catering business for four years before this and still do a great deal of catering, but you don't get to know people as well when you're only working for them one night."

Besides their extensive lunch menu, which is featured here, The Best of Thymes changes their entrees and side-dish selections weekly, offering an eclectic assortment of dishes, including at least one low-fat entree each week.

For breakfast, choose from an assortment of bagels, muffins, scones, coffee cake and croissants to go with a delicious cup of Colombian or flavored coffee.

Espresso and capuccino are now also available to warm you up on chilly mornings and afternoons.

They feature a variety of desserts, such as cheesecakes, chocolate mousse cakes, homemade pies and bread pudding with vanilla custard, as well as 7-grain, sourdough and french breads. On Thursdays and Fridays, they offer challah from Cafe Shalom in Brookline.

Besides preparing wonderful food to eat in or take out on a drop-in basis, The Best of Thymes has become Andover's "custom cooks."

Generally with just two days' notice, they can make items to order from their catering menus. Or, if you have something specific in mind that is not on their menu, they'll make it for you.

"In fact, some people bring in their favorite recipes that they don't have time to make for a particular event, and we do the cooking.

"We also are happy to offer menu planning suggestions to take some of the stress out of entertaining."

And, of course, although the cafe has a casual atmosphere, they continue to do full-service catering with elegance, style and, above all, great food.
